2 BIG FORCES NEAR JUNCTION AT SEVASTOPOL

Unable To Flee by Sea, Axis Troops Barricade Streets To Defend City.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 18—Two big Russian armies were reported nearing a juncture in the outskirts of Sevastopol today for a final onslaught against a frenzied axis garrison barricaded in the streets after failing to effect a large scale evacuation from the burning city.

(The Vichy radio, quoting a German report, said "the battle for Sevastopol has now commenced," with very heavy fighting taking place in the fortified region of the town.)

Front dispatches said Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's independent maritime army was moving on the city from the southeast after cracking a 2,200-foot mountain position known as Baidar gate in a drive that yesterday swept up a road junction 12 miles from Sevastopol and five miles from Balaklava, scene of the famed "charge of the light brigade."

Move Through Minefields

This force, moving through dense minefields, was expected to link up at any hour with Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukraine army, already filtering through Sevastopol's barricades from the north.

(The Vichy broadcast asserted the German-Romanian withdrawal toward the southwest of the Crimean peninsula was "being effected in perfect order and in complete accordance with German plans.)

The dispatches estimated that thousands of Germans and Romanians still were stranded on the docks of Sevastopol while others, fighting a determined rearguard action in the suburbs, were pouring machine-gun fire on Red army engineers clearing barbed wire and stone barricades as well as felled trees and deep mined trenches barring the way into the city proper.

Romanian Port Burns

The Red air force's heavy blows at the Romanian Danubian port of Galati Sunday night was reported to have left many fires and much destruction in the big port, adding to the fears of Romanians who are well aware that one Red army is gathering on the Bessarabian plains west of Odessa for the shortest route to Bucharest.

A Soviet communique last night said that from 1,600 to 2,000 Germans were killed on the mainland in a fight for extension of the Russian bridgehead on the west bank of the Dnestr river in the Tighina area 35 miles southeast of Chrisinau and about 115 miles northeast of bombed Galati.

Human Torpedo, New Weapon, Used Effectively by British

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 18—"Human torpedoes" guided to targets by two men riding them in divers' suits, have been used "with conspicuous success" against enemy shipping, the admiralty announced tonight.

The torpedoes are about the same size and shape of ordinary torpedoes and are driven by electric batteries. Explosive charges are about the same. The crewmen who sit astride the body of the torpedo maneuver them slowly toward their targets and then dive under it.

The nose charge then is detached from the torpedo and fixed to the bottom of the enemy ship. Time fuses are set and the "human torpedo" is ridden away before the explosion.

The use of this new secret weapon was disclosed by the admiralty in announcing decorations for four navymen for a daring attack on the enemy base at Palermo in Sicily, before the invasion. A cruiser was sunk.

All those decorated reached shore safely and were captured with the two-man crew of a third torpedo used in the operation.

The human torpedo has a relatively small range, presumably about 10 miles. It is dependent upon a mother ship or submarine and it is similar to a weapon used by the Italians in what they called successful attacks on British shipping in the Mediterranean.

KNOX—Navy secretary says invasion of Japanese Kurile islands can be expected, but adds nobody knows when.

"Upside Down" Robin Rescued by Firemen

Firemen from Central station reported a new kind of a run yesterday when they rescued a robin which had been dangling upside down for 26 hours.

A call explaining the bird's plight was received at 2:20 p. m. Two of the firemen in the chief's car went to 195 South Vine street and found the robin caught with one leg entangled in a string suspended from a tree limb. The rescue was made, first aid given and Mr. Robin flew away.

LEAGUE WORK WINS PRAISE

Churchill Expresses Hope Efforts of Body Will Not Be Lost in Post-War Era.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 18 — Prime Minister Churchill, in answering several questions concerning current and recent conferences toward post-war agreements, today told the house of commons "the great body of work achieved by the League of Nations" ought not be lost in the post-war international peace setup.

"I think if the League of Nations had been properly backed up it would have been successful," he said, adding:

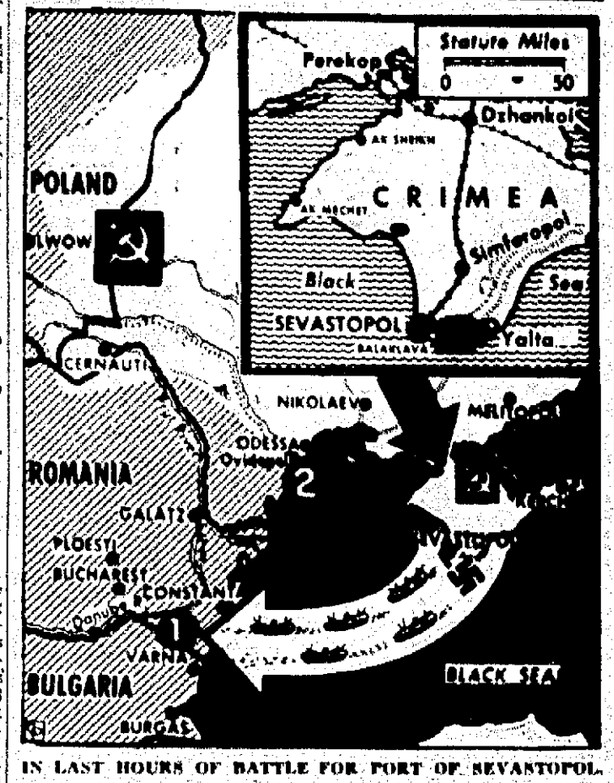
"Preliminary exchanges of opinion on post-war questions are constantly taking place between various members of the 34 United Nations, but I can not hold out the expectation that any agreed statement on the subject will be made in the near future."

Capt. Frederick John Bellenger asked the prime minister whether the plans for organizing and maintaining peace which U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull mentioned recently conflicted with the covenant of the League of Nations.

"I thought, as a great many people did, that Mr. Hull's speech was most helpful," Churchill replied.

Asked about the recent London British-American talks on post-war civil air transport, Churchill said the meetings were purely "informal and exploratory."

"I am glad to say that sufficient agreement was reached for both countries to support the holding of a conference in expectation that final decisions then can be reached," he said.



IN LAST HOURS OF BATTLE FOR PORT OF SEVASTOPOL. Russia's liberation of the Crimea and the momentary fall of Sevastopol, the historic base for which the Germans battled 250 days in 1942 at a cost of 300,000 casualties, draws the attention of the world. Red Army troops, Soviet aircraft and the Russian Black sea fleet hammered relentlessly at enemy units trapped in Sevastopol and at ships and barges aboard which the Germans sought to flee across the sea (No. 1 on map). At top is a photo of Sevastopol harbor, No. 2 on map indicates Ovidopol, taken by Reds. (International).

2,000 PLANES BLAST CAPITAL, OTHER CITIES

At Least 750 of Armada Are Fortresses and Liberator Bombers.

By The Associated Press

A vast fleet of probably more than 2,000 United States planes attacked Berlin and other German cities today, touching off what the Nazis said were violent and prolonged air battles.

More than 750 of the invading aircraft were Fortresses and Liberators; the rest were Thunderbolt, Mustang and Lightning fighters seeking out the German air force for destruction before D-Day. With air power to spare, other Liberators blasted the Calais invasion coast of France.

The renewed offensive from British bases broke a three day lull during which allied craft have carried on the fight in southeast Europe from Italian fields.

RAF Mosquito bombers blasted the Rhineland city of Cologne last night.

The air ministry announced one plane was lost during the night operations which also included mine-laying operations.

Allied Mediterranean air forces completed 72 hours of incessant hammering of the enemy's Balkan supply lines last night as Wellingtons and Liberators smashed at the Plovdiv railyards, 85 miles southeast of the Bulgarian capital of Sofia.

It was the third straight day and night that Italy-based bomber fleets carried the major share of the load in the two-day air squeeze on Hitler's Europe, although the Mosquito thrust at Cologne followed a daylight blow at enemy installations in northern France which broke a three-day lull for heavy bombers based in Britain.

The attack on Plovdiv came on the heels of daylight smashes at rail targets at Sofia and Belgrade and plane plants and an airdrome in the Belgrade area at Fortresses and Liberators.

A Stockholm dispatch quoted advices from Switzerland as saying Romanian railroad and oil field workers were fleeing their jobs by the hundreds as a result of the heavy air attacks. Bucharest was described as without water and electricity and 40 per cent of its population was said to have been evacuated.

The Germans have thrown a cordon around the Ploesti oil works and have forbidden workers to leave even when off duty.

First Warrant Served in New Traffic System

The first warrant resulting from failure to pay a traffic fine under the new traffic regulations was served yesterday afternoon by city police. The driver, charged with overparking in a meter zone posted $10 bond and is to appear in municipal court for a hearing at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Under the new traffic rules if an offender doesn't call at the bureau within 24 hours he is notified by mail of the offense and given a number of days to report. After this stated time elapses, if the violator still hasn't appeared, the case is turned over to municipal court, a warrant filed and the arrest made.

BRICKER WANTS U. S. TO RETAIN BASES

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 18 — The United States has no territorial ambitions, says Gov. Bricker of Ohio, but strategic military installations for which our boys have paid "with their blood and their lives" should be retained where they are essential to the nation's future safety.

The Ohio candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, nearing the end of a nine-day tour of western states, addressed 4,000 listeners in the Shrine auditorium last night under the auspices of the California Republican state central committee.

Discussing America's defenses after the war, Bricker declared that the military installations to be retained by the United States should include defensively strategic Pacific islands, airfields and radio stations.

"This does not mean we are abandoning our traditional non-imperialistic policy. We have no territorial ambitions."

Regarding domestic problems, Bricker declared "the people want no more part of the New Deal philosophy of a mature economy and the theory of scarcity of production, that kind of system hold out no promise except a dreary life on a dole."

The Ohio governor said the American people have four principal objectives: to win the war just as soon as possible, consistent with the best military tactics and the least loss of life; to insure a lasting peace, with a firm national and foreign policy that will guarantee security, a post-war America in which there are jobs under the competitive enterprise system, with freedom and opportunity for all, and a speedy return "to the Republican form of government."

COUNTRY CLUB OPENING SET

Season Starts April 30; Fostoria Woman Announced as New Manager.

Plans for another season of the Country club were made last night when the board of directors met last night at the home of R. T. Lewis, president.

April 30 has been set for the formal opening when reception will be held from 4 to 8 p. m. for members and their families.

At present the club house is being cleaned from top to bottom and the greens and fairways put into shape for anxious golf enthusiasts. Mr. Lewis said that the course has never been in better shape for the opening of the season.

New Manager

Announcement was made last night of the hiring of a new manager, Mrs. Dixie Eichman, formerly of the Fostoria Country club. Ben Miller, former pro at Galion and Mar-O-Del courses, will be employed as part-time pro. An innovation for tired golfers, weary from the weight of their clubs, are "Kaddy Kars" which will be rented for use when caddies are not available. They are small carts which will accomodate a pack of clubs and can be trundled about the course.

Harold Grigsby, membership chairman, announced that there is room for 29 new members before the club's membership reaches 200 and is closed. Admission was granted to 26 new members at last night's meeting. There are still places for nine social members and 20 active members.

Golf Plans

Herbert Petrich, reporting for the golf committee, outlined plans for the season made at a meeting of the group and promised several innovations which will be announced later. Mrs. Howard Stoll, chairman of the women's golf committee, announced that women will play golf on Thursday mornings as usual. Bridge will be played in the afternoon. Mrs. Millard Hunt is secretary-treasurer of the women's group.

Stag parties will be held regularly throughout the season, according to Robert Mason, chairman of the stag committee. The first stag is scheduled for Wednesday, May 3.

To Rotate Committees

Instead of serving for the full season, social committees will serve one month and will offer a more varied program, Mr. Lewis stated. Between 15 and 20 members will be included on the group which will work with Mrs. Eichman in planning club events. Social chairmen and wives of trustees will be in the receiving line at the reception and will introduce new members. Refreshments will be served. Programs for the season will be printed later.

LISBON ATTORNEY DIES

CIVILIAN CHIEF ON ARMY TRIAL STAND

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 18—A high AAF civilian chief testified today he indorsed representations of quality control at the Lockland plant of the Wright Aeronautical Corp. without having seen a report on complaints on inspection practices, and a minute later conceded that he had read two paragraphs of the report.

The witnesses in the court-martial of three AAA officers accused of inspection malpractices at the plane was Charles F. Fidler of Dearborn, Mich., engine control chief in the AAF central procurement office at Detroit.

Fidler testified that in March, 1943, he indorsed a letter recommending award of a star to be added to the "E" production award already held by the Lockland factory and gave it to Maj. Walter A. Ryan of Detroit, district inspection officer who is one of the defendants, for signing.

Also on trial are Lt. Col. Frank C. Greulich, former district chief inspector of Detroit and Maj. William Bruckman of Cincinnati, former resident inspector at Lockland.

Maj. Henry C. Clausen, trial judge advocate, asked Fidler on cross-examination if he had seen a transcript of a meeting held here by Millard T. Clark, district inspection supervisor, with seven complaining inspectors.

Fidler replied "no," and Clausen then read from the air inspector's report these quotations which Fidler promptly verified:

"I saw two paragraphs in Ryan's office. . . . I skimmed over them to be sure that "Millard) Clark hadn't done anything down there (at Cincinnati) to hurt me."

Ray T. Clark, former AAF chief inspector at Lockland, yesterday conceded he had made a false statement under oath to the Truman committee.

Congress Seeking Painless ? Income Tax Payment Plan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—"Painless" extraction of income taxes was the goal set by house fiscal leaders today as they launched legislation designed to relieve 30,000,000 persons from the job of filing any returns after this year.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) called the ways and means committee together to go over the first draft of the simplification measure, which also is calculated to make the March 15 headache less severe for the 20,000,000 other persons who still would have to file returns.

Beginning next January 1, if the bill is enacted, the present withholding system against wages and salaries will be revised upward to take from pay envelopes and salary checks the full tax liability for persons earning up to $5,000 annually.

The measure will make no change in amounts withheld this year, and provides that the government complete the taxes on 1944 income for those with wages or salaries under $5,000.

Doughton said the legislation would make no substantial change in the burden of any taxpayer.

$1,438 Needed Yet in Red Cross Drive

Red Cross war fund drive officials renewed their efforts today to raise the $1,438.08 needed to put the campaign over its $56,000 goal, after donations in the last few days had cut the needed amount to that figure.

Thanking the scores of Marion county residents who responded to the "give again" plea, J. D. Torrance, drive chairman, issued an appeal to all other persons financially able to make a second gift.

"We're getting close to the goal, and we can go over the top this week, but we need dozens of additional gifts to do it," he emphasized.

NEW PLANE PRODUCED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 18—Production of a new "Wildcat" fighter plane described by Rear Adm. D. C. Ramsey as "the best light fighter we have," was announced today by the General Motors Corp. The plane, known as the FM-2, has been rolling out of the company's plant at Linden, N. J., for some time and already has seen action with the Pacific fleet.

HEAVY RAIN KEEPS OHIO FARMERS IDLE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18 — Abnormally heavy rainfall for March and April has delayed spring planting in Ohio, but the delay will not prove serious to farmers if the weather changes soon, Meteorologist George W. Mindling said today.

A preliminary state survey disclosed 4.91 inches of rain in Ohio during March, he reported, compared with a 61-year March average of 3.39. During the first 17 days of April, 2.80 inches of rain fell in Columbus. This figure, Mindling said, is a fair sample of rainfall throughout Ohio. Normal precipitation for a corresponding period is 1.52, he added.

"The ground is saturated throughout the state, and farmers are discouraged with the outlook for getting crops planted on time. The sowing of oats already has been seriously delayed, and preparations for other planting are behind schedule," Mindling reported.

"However," he added, "if the weather changes soon and the ground dries, farmers can get most of their crops planted in time. The delay isn't serious if we get the right kind of weather in the near future."

Light rain in the southwest portion of the state was forecast for today.

Patrolman Taking Special Training at FBI School

Z. C. McClenathan, city patrolman, of 237 Chase street left Sunday to begin a special course at the National Police Academy in Washington, D. C., maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Funds for the schooling, approved by city council, provide for approximately 16 weeks of study in all phases of police work. After completing the school he will return to Marion and act as instructor for the department.

Selection of G. O. P. Keynoter Is Up To Convention Board

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 18—The key to the Republican keynoter choice today remained in the hands of a 24-member arrangements committee as supporters of the party's presidential candidates carefully refrained from showing their cards in a backstage game.

With supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York apparently able to veto any unacceptable choice, J. Russell Sprague, New York committeeman and Dewey backer, said he had no particular individual in mind to make the party's June 26 kickoff speech.

Similarly, Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown, Ohio national committeewoman, said supporters of Gov. Bricker of Ohio, an avowed presidential candidate, would be satisfied with the choice of any of a number of those who had been mentioned. She indicated, however, that Rep. Halleck (Ind) and Sen. Vandenberg (Mich.) would be acceptable.

From Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen's home state of Minnesota, national committeeman Roy E. Dunn came to the meeting

HEAVY SNOWS HIT WESTERN STATES

By The Associated Press

One of the most severe unseasonal snowstorms in years spread out unexpectedly over the high great plains area of western Nebraska and Kansas last night, threatening livestock and halting already-late farm operations.

McCook, Nebr., had an unprecedented 19 inches of wet, heavy snow with the fall continuing into the night, and at Kearney, motor cars stalled in drifts from a 10-inch snowfall. Lighter snow was general through Nebraska and as far eastward as north central Kansas. Hays Center, Nebr., reported five inches on the ground, North Platte, two, and Grand Island, three.

Sub-freezing temperatures were general throughout the area last night, bringing fears to livestock men for the safety of both cattle and sheep.

In the Oklahoma panhandle, a 36-mile wind stirred up a dust storm which reduced visibility to less than a mile at some points.

The weather bureau at Kansas City forecast slightly rising temperatures for the area today, but gave no promise of the snow being melted in less than 48 hours.

TOKYO CLAIMS INDIA ADVANCE

Japs Say They Are Mile and Half from Bengal-Assam Line in India.

By The Associated Press

Tokyo today claimed Japan's offensive into India has carried within one and one-half miles of the vital Bengal-Assam railroad but there wasn't a word of confirmation from allied sources.

Instead, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters reported successes in the allies' own offensive into Burma, told of Japanese defeats along the northern Burma supply system and indicated there was nothing to dim the confidence surrounding the defense of India and the important railroad.

The Tokyo claim put Nipponese troops six miles southeast of Dimapur, junction of the key Bengal-Assam railroad over which flow supplies for allied troops under Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell trying to blast a short-cut land round from Ledo, India, to Chinese bases.

Claim Kohima Capture

Tokyo said this great advance, which means the railroad may be blocked soon, was made possible by the capture of Kohima, allied base 35 miles south of Dimapur, on April 6 and the subsequent release of troops there. Mountbatten never has reported the fall of Kohima, has communiqued all attacks on the base have been repulsed and said counter-attacks have cleared the enemy from several road-straddling positions near Kohima.

Associated Press War Correspondent Thoburn Wiant reported in a delayed dispatch that official allied quarters estimate at least one Japanese division has been withdrawn from eastern Burma to combat allied forces preying on supply routes in northern Burma feeding the enemy's Indian drive.

Air Campaign Continues

The methodical air campaign to blast the Japanese out of each defensive outpost in the southwest Pacific continued. Netherlandia, Dutch New Guinea, caught the latest hot Gen. Douglas MacArthur declined to tell the Japanese just how many tons of bombs pounded the base, except to say it was more than 200 and a heavy blow.

3 Cars and Truck In Complicated Accident

An accident on North Main street yesterday afternoon involving three cars and a truck, a tree and a lawn resulted in minor damage to two cars, according to police reports.

The mishap occurred near the Dutt Implement Store. Cars damaged were owned by Harold E. Runkle of near Marion, one of the drivers, and L. D. Schultz of near Radnor. The latter car was parked.

According to police reports, the accident happened when Runkle attempted to pass a Marion Grain and Supply Co. truck, driven by James Albert Rinnert of near Marion. Both were driving north on North Main. Police said the truck turned out to avoid hitting a fourth car, driver of which was not known, and Runkle swerved across the street over the curb and struck a tree after going over the lawn of the Walter Schuler residence. The Schultz car was undamaged when Runkle attempted to back off the lawn.

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE

By The Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 18—Mrs. Ruth Googins Roosevelt was granted a divorce yesterday from Col. Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the president.

The divorce was granted in chambers in a quiet hearing before Judge Bruce Young of 60th district court. Mrs. Roosevelt testified briefly that her husband had asked her to institute the divorce proceedings and that he did not care for her any longer.

Judge Young said her testimony covered the allegations of desertion and cruel treatment included in the divorce petition filed March 16.

Col. Roosevelt signed a waiver of service.

ABOUT ANYTHING

In and Around Marion

Marion Club Memorial

Although the old Marion City club will soon be completely cleared away from South Prospect street it won't be entirely forgotten. Through a conversation overheard recently at one of the downtown lunch counters it was learned that Dr. F. A. Stengel, one of the former members had purchased the big front door just for old times' sake.

* * *

Still Need for Caution

Since those big colored posters warning Marionites of the damage that can be done by talking too freely concerning servicemen have thinned out we wonder if they could really have forgotten just how much danger can result from some of the remarks to be heard most any day. That mother on the bus this morning and the young wife who confided in the beauty operator recently or the father who was discussing his son's plans at breakfast downtown yesterday should perhaps think twice before they again give ports, possible destinations and especially the time when the boy expected to be shipped. All of them added together and combined with other chance remarks could prove disastrous.

* * *

A Little Bit Jumbled

You read about the jive language used now by the bobby sox brigade but if you want to really get an earful first hand drop in at some of the downtown soda fountains in the late afternoons when the kids troop in from classes. It's entertaining. You'll get a kick out of hearing it but just try to figure out what they are saying!

* * *

Not for Rent

Spring house cleaning time would pass with a little less embarrasment to prospective movers if families could put up a sign in the window like most stores do when they want to let customers know that business is going on as usual while the windows are being redecorated. Empty windows and no furniture in sight seem to draw overanxious people to peek in and see if the house is what they are looking for. One woman in the east side tried that the other day and peeked right into the eyes of the industrious housewife who was on her knees inside scrubbing woodwork. It turned out all right though because they both had a sense of humor.

Hope It's Wrong

Do you suppose there are little gremlins who see that the old adages follow through year after year? It seems there is one that goes like this: "If it rains on Easter it will rain for seven Sundays." Well, it got off to a good start. Wonder what the other six will bring.

Model Gardens

If all victory gardens could look as neat and progress as nicely as the ones in the display windows there would probably be more of them. All the rows are growing in such an orderly line and every one is properly tagged. The displays make quite a pleasant eyefull.

Interesting Work

One Marion shoe repairman shouldn't be so deft, because the other morning, Mrs. Clara Fleck, deputy clerk at municipal court was so fascinated watching him repair her shoe heels that she was almost late for work. She said she was almost hypnotized while watching him ply that slender little hammer. It's magnetized on one end and he uses this to pick up the nail and gives it a quick little tap then he flicks the tool over and hammers it neatly in place with no danger to his finger.

Bus Conversations

There's no place like a bus to broaden your education. Everything from the latest new flashes to fashion hints can be obtained if one lends a listening ear and is able to obtain a seat in the middle of the bus. Around 5 o'clock in the afternoon is the best time to get those valuable bits of information—or misinformation as in the case of the recent invasion rumor. One would-be news commentator was heard to remark that he had heard on the radio the night before that the invasion had started and though the papers denied the report he was ready to believe it. "Yessir, they're just trying to keep it quiet for political reasons." What these reasons might be the 'audience' was never informed because the speaker's stop was the next corner.

ON THE WARPATH. A gunner on a U. S. Coast Guard assault transport in the Pacific, George "White Bear" Drapeaux, a Sioux Indian of Wagner, S. Dakota, has traveled more than 100,000 miles since the war began. He was bombed two weeks after Pearl Harbor and survived the burning of another transport in the Atlantic. Coast Guard photo.

Adventists Observe Special Missions Day

The local Seventh Day Adventist congregation, engaged in the yearly "ingathering for missions," set today as a special day to work toward individual goals for support of missions. For the "ingathering" period each member has set as a goal an effort to be responsible for "one full minute of support for worldwide humanitarian relief during the current year." The financial goal has been set at approximately $13 for each member. Special emphasis is being placed this year on support of the work of Kata Rogo, chief of a group of natives living on British governed islands in the war zone. At the outbreak of the war the leader formed rescue squads to patrol the shores and to pick up Allied airmen that had been shot down or had crashed into the sea, to give first aid and to take them to mission hospitals staffed by native nurses, and many forced down fliers have been rescued by these crews, it has been reported.

TIPSY POTATOES

By International News Service

ORONO, Me.—Maine potatoes are going to war in a new way—as alcohol in the manufacture of synthetic rubber. Carloads of surplus potatoes are being shipped to sugar bet plants in the Mid-West, where they are dried before being converted into the essential fluid. The potatoes are purchased by the War Food Administration at support prices.

OPERA SEASON IN CLEVELAND MAY 1-6

Marion Residents Planning To Attend Programs.

Stars of the Metropolitan Opera association will appear at the Cleveland public auditorium from May 1-6 inclusive. Eight operas have been prepared for presentation during the nineteenth annual spring festival there, according to officials of the association.

Considerable interest has been shown by Marion families and the sale of tickets for the productions through Wiant's book store has almost reached record proportions.

The roster of artists includes most of the famous names of present day opera, Marjorie Lawrence, Rose Bampton, Lauritz Melchior, Alexander Kipnis, Martial Singher, Lily Pons, Helen Jepson, Jennie Tourel, Ezio Pinza, Lawrence Tibbett, Bidu Sayao, James Melton, Charles Kullman, Eleanor Steber, Irra Petina, Jan Peerce, Leonard Warren and many others.

Equally famous names will be found in the orchestra pit. Sir Thomas Beecham, the English conductor, will preside for the opening performance and Cesare Sodero, Wilfred Pelletier, Paul Breisach and Pietro Cimara are all scheduled to direct during the week.

The schedule for the performances is as follows: May 1, "The Tales of Hoffman;" May 2, "La Traviata;" May 3, "The Marriage of Figaro;" May 4, "Mignon;" May 5, (afternoon), "Tannhaeuser," (evening) "Lucia de Lammermoor;" May 6 (afternoon), "Carmen," (evening), "Rigoletto."

The first J. C. Penney store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, was called the "Golden Rule," a name which aptly describes the Penney way of doing business

YOUR GOOD NEIGHBOR

for 42 Years

WHAT we like best to hear people say of us is "Penney's is a neighborly store." And that's what we do hear . . . often!

For at Penney's we have never outgrown the simple, friendly way of doing business that makes people feel welcome and at home.

We've never outgrown it—in all our 42 years. It was 'way back in April 1902 that Mr. Penney opened his first little store in Kemmerer, Wyoming—a store devoted to friendly service and thrifty prices.

And the spirit of that first store has thrived and spread to every one of our stores, in more than 1600 fine American communities.

The people who work here at Penney's are neighbors of yours and they try to act as good neighbors should. They make every effort to be friendly and helpful. They sympathize with your likes and dislikes. They belong to this town!

Yes, and so does the store in which they work! That's why shopping at Penney's is so easy and pleasant and sociable all around!

* * *

In time of peace, each Penney anniversary was a time for celebration and for ceremony.

But this year, upon our 42nd Anniversary, we celebrate simply with a reaffirmation of the Penney spirit.

We mark the date with a determination to remain as homelike and neighborly—as considerate of you and your pocketbook—as you and our many friends have come to expect us to be.

Where clothes wear out in a week!

IT sounds unbelievable—but uniforms that lasted as long as 10 months in training camps were worn out in one week by some troops in the Sicilian campaign.

Other supplies—fuel, food, ammunition and equipment—were used at an astounding rate.

American plants must continue to produce great quantities of the thousands of items of supply so our troops will have whatever they need to speed victory.

And Erie and other American Railroads must continue to deliver shipments to our battlefronts in increasing quantities.

But, no matter how big the job becomes, your railroads will do everything possible, and the seemingly impossible, to keep men and materials rolling to the battlefronts all over the world.

And with the continued cooperation of the public, shippers and government agencies we will get the job done!

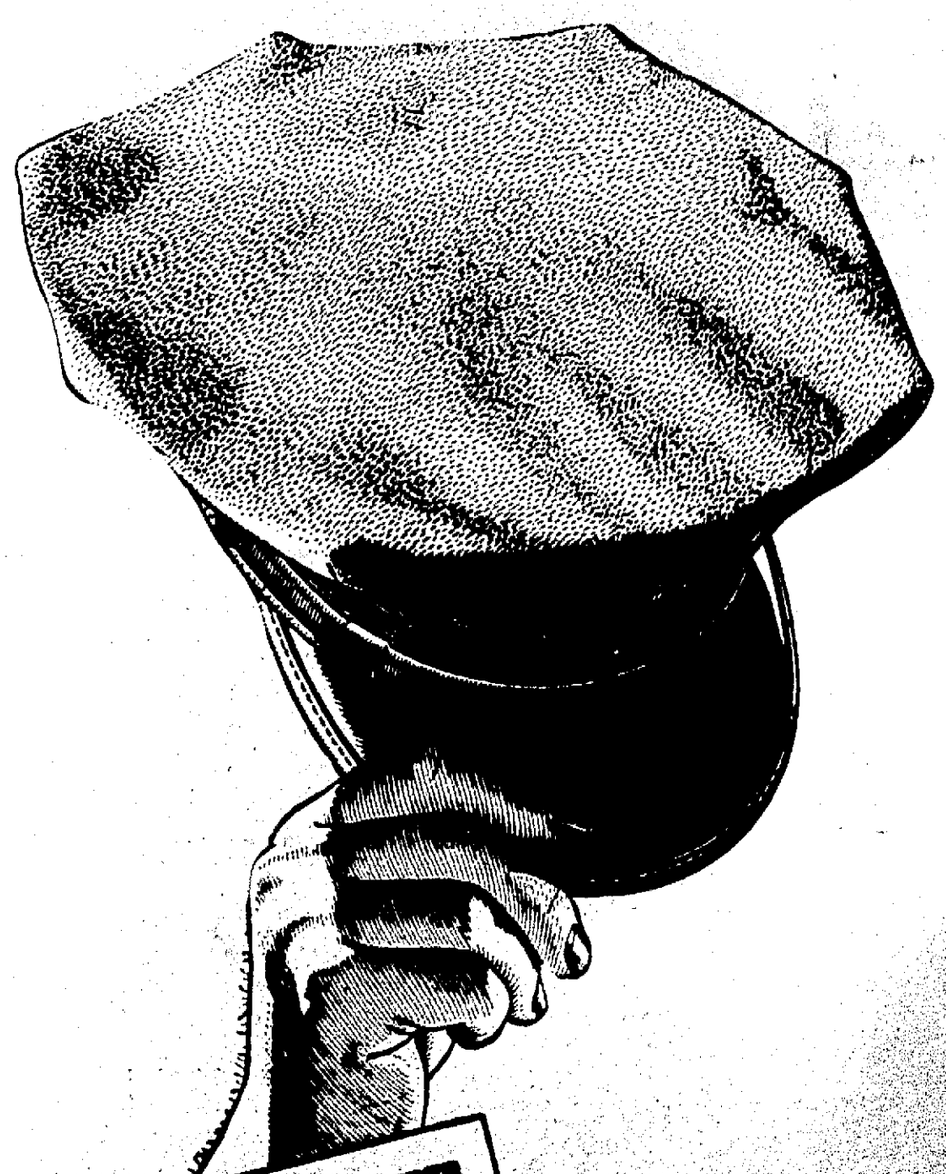
Free Air
and Free Enterprise

THAT FELLOW ON THE CORNER

Perhaps you have always thought of American Free Enterprise in terms of such things as better motor cars, radios, or electric refrigerators.

But just look down on the corner for one of the best examples of Free Enterprise . . . We mean the Service Station, run by That Fellow on the Corner—with his heart, his ideals and his own money in his business. He is a free businessman.



SPRING BUMPER-TO-BUMPER CHANGE-OVER SERVICE

One kind of service that has made the Pure Oil dealers' brand of Free Enterprise so popular is his Bumper-to-Bumper Change-Over Service. It's thorough car-saving care at 40 to 50 vital points in your car.

His is making replacements now for this summer which is bound to be a hard driving season.

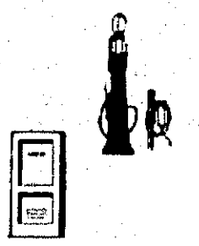
Call around and see him '44

'Way back in your "Merry Oldsmobile" you chugged up to the drug or grocery store for a can of something that smelled like cleaning fluid and you poured this fuel into the gas tank by hand.

Blacksmiths went out and garages came in. The automobile came to stay. Free Enterprise went to work.

"Filling Stations" with self-measuring gas pumps sprang up at convenient locations. As traffic increased, pumps were moved back from the curb and drive-in facilities were provided.

Competition started and American Free Enterprise shifted into high.



Station A put in a Free Air Hose

—so Station B added a rest room.

Then Station A installed a grease pit.

—and Station C stole a march on both of them by announcing facilities to charge your battery and check your plugs!

Facilities for tire inspection and repair were added.

Stocks came to include spark plugs, battery cables, radiator hose, light bulbs and tire tubes as well as tires, batteries, and all kinds of accessories.

Free Enterprise marches on!

Before long you could make your purchases with a single phone call, and have delivery of a complete line.

Campbell School Club Hears Charles Whysall

Charles Whysall, who spent two years in the Caribbean area in Army service, spoke on his experiences in Trinidad and Curacao when the Campbell School Community club met Friday night at the school. Miss Geneva Dutt, school nurse, presented a health talk illustrated with motion pictures. Other portions of the program were presented by students. The program was opened with the pledge to the Flag led by Scout Ronald Lust. Martha Thompson read the Scripture. Songs were presented by Jimmie Hughes and a quartet made up of Joyce Payne, Joyce Bentley, Julie Parsell and Peggy Oldaker. Jimmie Thompson, Danny Lust and Freddie Roth presented poems. Instrumental music was played by Willis Parker. Barbara McDonald sang a solo accompanied by Grace Cruzer.

Plans were made for a picnic supper at 6 p. m. May 19 at the school. Mrs. Harvey Lust was appointed program chairman for the affair and Mrs. Roy Thompson will act as social chairman. The group presented two softballs to the school team.

Use Roman Cleanser to make curtains snowy-white. Save the wear at hard rubbing. Easy directions on label.

Audubon Society Lecture Tonight at Central Jr. High

ALEXANDER SPRUNT JR.

Plans are being completed by the Burroughs Nature club for the presentation of a motion picture lecture in natural color by Alexander Sprunt Jr., southern representative of the National Audubon society tonight, in Central Junior High school.

The picture, "Wonders of the Southern Wilderness," will be given at 8 o'clock and is free to the public.

Except for his undergraduate years at Davidson College, N. C., and service with the U. S. Navy in World War I, Mr. Sprunt has devoted himself to the study of wildlife and the problems of conservation. Since the inauguration of the Audubon Wildlife tours he has devoted himself to supervising organized fields trips in the south, and as a supervisor of wildlife sanctuaries. Vast colonies of birds are protected, among them the most beautiful and spectacular in this country, egrets, spoonbills, cranes, herones and Ibis of many kinds.

As a lecturer, Mr. Sprunt combines color and forcefulness in a very effective way. His unusual acquaintance with the natural history of the south, his intimate knowledge of conservation problems and his fluent and colorful speech combine to make him an authoritative and agreeable speaker for all those who are interested in wild life and outdoor pursuits.

Mr. Sprunt's talk and the party in the 1943-44 club activities. He will come to Marion from Toledo where last night he spoke before the Toledo Naturalist association and Wednesday will go to Columbus for a speaking engagement.

REV. ZINA W. M'CLUNG DIES AT PLAIN CITY

Former Marion Resident; Funeral Tomorrow.

Rev. Zina W. McClung, 51, minister of the Christian Union church who lived at Plain City, O., formerly of Marion, died at his home at 2 p. m. Sunday. He was ill one week, suffering from pneumonia.

Born May 6, 1892 in Delaware county, he was a son of Fremont and Adella McClung. A member of the Christian Union church in Columbus, he was ordained to the ministry there. He lived in Marion, carrying on his work in Columbus, until about two years ago when he went to Plain City. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Z. W. McClung of Plain City, a son, Raymond McClung of North Main street, Marion, three granddaughters and two sisters, Mrs. A. N. Dickerson and Mrs. K. J. Hiatt of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Ferguson funeral home at Plain City by Rev. Hunter of Columbus. Burial will be in Plain City cemetery.

The labor cost of constructing the 1943 armada of fighting and merchant ships in the U. S. totaled $4,300,000,000.

Week's Sales Low at Victory House

War bond and stamp sales at the Victory House last week amounted to $1,439 85, a decrease from the preceding week's total of $5,431.60. Bonds sale alone brought $1,292.75 and stamps $147.10.

Daily sales for the week were as follows: Monday bonds $37.50, stamps $7.40; Tuesday bonds $243, stamps $25.50; Wednesday bonds $168.50, stamps $23.20; Thursday bonds $300, stamps $8; Friday bonds $318 75, stamps $55.25; Saturday bonds $225, stamp $27.75.

Newspaper Boy To Be On War Bond Broadcast

David Hutchinson, 15, newspaper boy serving the Philadelphia (Pa.) Evening Bulletin, who has sold 34,731 ten-cent War Stamps to date, will be featured on "Broadway Matinee," a coast-to-coast Columbia Broadcasting System radio show, as representative of 150,000 American carrier boys who have achieved a record of more than one billion 120 million ten-cent stamp sales since Pearl Harbor.

The broadcast is set for Friday from 4 to 4.25 p. m. Young Hutchinson will tell the story of the remarkable contribution to the war effort made by newspaper boys of more than 925 daily newspapers in every section of the nation. He is a sophomore in Philadelphia's North East High school where his father, Clarence Hutchinson Jr. is instructor of manual training. Jim Ameche, announcer, will interview David over the radio.

French People Told Time Now Is Short

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 18—"The time is getting short," the French people were warned today in the latest of a stream of pre-invasion broadcasts from the government-controlled London radio.

They were advised to store as much food as possible because "at least until the day of liberation comes, civilians must live on what is stored."

Even after France is liberated the Allies will not be in a position to distribute much food, listeners were told. The French were instructed to memorize details of London broadcasts for fear their wireless sets soon might be confiscated by the Germans.

Barrymore Composition To Be Played Saturday

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 18—Lionel Barrymore is going on in an extra program next Saturday afternoon, not in his usual capacity as an actor but as a composer of classical music.

The occasion is the playing by the Philadelphia orchestra in its weekly CBS concert of his tone poem "In Memoriam," dedicated to his late brother John.

Lionel will be cut in from Hollywood to introduce the composition played from Philadelphia under the direction of Eugene Ormandy.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

GASOLINE VALUE

Editor of The Star: It seems that Mr. Farrar places a lot of value on a few gallons of gasoline that are required to train a pilot for combat duty to defend his country. As I understand it the Army has regulations which determine the number of hours a pilot must fly to qualify. I think if he wants to show off in front of the folks, girl friend or wife he should not be criticized and called a "torch light" pilot, who may some day end up a "pile of ashes" to save his country.

I am willing to "Buy them so he can fly them" and he, the pilot, probably buys them too.

Studebaker Champion a money-saver says Civil Air Patrol pilot

"MY 1940 Studebaker Champion has traveled more than 110,000 tough miles," reports Civil Air Patrol pilot Lieutenant J. E. McGuiggan of Squadron 3 who is employed by Universal Studios of St. Paul, Minnesota.

"I average 25 miles to the gallon and my original tires stood up well over 60,000 miles. Of all the cars I've owned, this Champion is easily the most satisfactory and economical."

From coast to coast, it's the same story these war days—tires last longer, gas goes further, repairs are required less frequently in a Studebaker, thanks to advanced engineering principles and quality materials and craftsmanship.

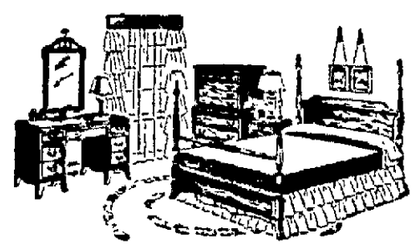
Dependable Furniture for 78 Years



In answer to a question—

We have been asked if there is any difference in the price of new articles selected when used furniture is traded-in as part payment on a purchase of new furniture.

There is not! The price is just the same. (At least, in our store.)

In this connection we might offer a little advice: Select your new merchandise before you even mention that you expect to trade in old furniture.

We also mention that the credit terms on trade-in transactions are just as liberal as on purchases where there is no trade-in.

The Schaffner trade-in plan is just a service—an accommodation—and you are welcome to make use of it.

Allied Mystery Man Is Studious, Quiet Gen. Bradley

By WES GALLAGHER
AP War Correspondent

LONDON, April 18—The mysterious at allied invasion headquarters is silent "Doughboy General" Omar Bradley, chief of the American ground forces.

Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's picture appears in the newspapers daily and sometimes twice daily but Bradley is known as a general who seldom is seen. The tall, school-teacherish lieutenant-general has not had a day off in two years. He has been in England for months directing the American forces. When he first arrived he worked a seven-day schedule—five days in the office and two in the field. Now he is on a two-five schedule—two days in the office and five days in the field.

Gen. Bradley's work day starts at 8:30 a. m. and ends officially at 5:30 p. m., but actually it usually continues through half the night. The other night he came home to find American Navy men down on the floor of his hotel suite with every movable object in the room on the floor plotting an amphibious attack.

The general is a great family man. The high spot of his day is the arrival of the mail. His wife writes him three times a week and his daughter three.

He almost never drinks liquor but keeps two cases of soft drinks in his office and drinks them at all hours.

The American commander believes orders should be delivered and explained personally to commanders so there will be no misunderstanding. If he is unable to visit the commanders personally he telephones and makes sure the commanders understand what is meant.

Bradley wears shell-rimmed spectacles which accentuate his professional appearance, but his staff knows him as a tough, hard field commander who likes to wonder about the front lines and see for himself.

He is confident his forces equal any in the world and in discussing the western front has told friends he did not see how the Germans "can stop us."

He was a classmate of General Eisenhower at West Point and there are similarities between the two, who remain as American as corn on the cob, but share a mutual respect for the British with whom they work. There is one difference between the two, however, according to staffmen.

As one explained it, "Ike likes to talk and Bradley listens."

Bill Proposes Pay for Draft Boards

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) yesterday called for legislation to provide compensation for members of the 6,441 local selective service boards throughout the country.

Asserting "higher-ups are sitting on velvet cushions and drawing big pay, but the boys who do the work—the boys who get all the blame and damnation and criticism—get nothing," Wiley told the senate:

"It is time congress does something about it."

He asked that the senate military committee draft a bill to compensate the three to seven members usually functioning on local boards.

THE TORNADO STOPPED HIM. A. E. Barfield, 56, tells spectators how a deadly tornado blew his automobile and trailer from a highway near Royston, Ga., as he traveled from his home at Greenville, S. C., toward Panama City, Fla. The car rests beside a demolished home. Five members of his family were injured.

COUNTY HOME REPORT LISTS 1943 COSTS

Total Expenditures $23,383; 39 Persons Given Care.

Marion county spent $23,383.97 during 1943 caring for residents of the County home, county records show. Of this amount $10,449.80 was received from the combined sale of farm products and amounts received from outside sources. Sale of farm products amounted to $8,432.88 and a total of $2,016.92 was received from outside for the upkeep of some residents. Population of the home averaged 39 during the year.

The report also stated that $706.10 of the total amount for the year was spent outside the home for relief which is not furnished in the Home and $6,036.49 went for major repairs and new equipment. After deducting these expenses, the net operating expense for 1943 was estimated to be $6,191.78 or an average of $158.76 per person. Per capita cost for the previous years, according to county records were: $356.01 in 1942; $390.88 in 1941 and $439.80 in 1940.

The expenses included an estimated $600 for heat and hot and cold water furnished to the Marion County detention home.

The average cost of the 49,822 meals served during the year was ten cents per serving. According to the report $1,1651.94 was spent for food. On addition to the items of food purchased, products furnished from the county farm gardens were valued at $3,300.

Farm receipts since 1921 from 1921 to 1940 inclusive averaged $2,486.10 per year.

Expenses for the year included: salaries, $6,268.73; medical fees, $784.93; groceries and provisions, $1,651.94; fuel and light, $1,871.40; dry goods and clothing, $319.01; household furnishings, $29.23; drugs, $47; tobacco, $282.68; live stock, $932.50; farm supplies, (feed, seed and fertilizer), $1,916.75; burial expenses, $356.50; minor repair, $250.71; major repairs, new eulpment, $6,036.49; miscellaneous expenses, $2,615.38.

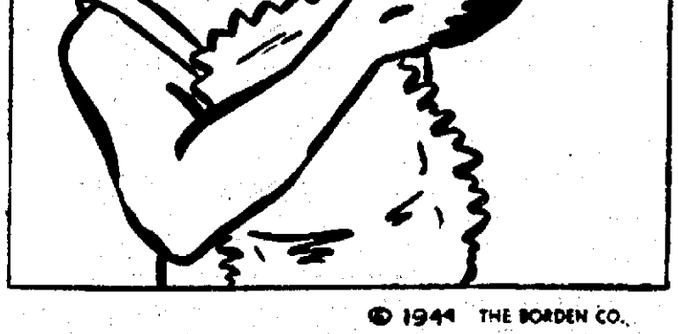
A Borden Treat for Marion!

HOMOGENIZED Vitamin D Milk

And what a treat it is! America's favorite food—Milk—now comes to you in a greatly improved and even more appetizing form. We of Borden's here in Marion take great pleasure in serving this community with our famous Homogenized Vitamin D Milk—the milk that looks better, tastes better, IS better—the milk that EVERYONE likes, and that is recommended by doctors everywhere.



© 1944 THE BORDEN CO.

"You can quote me on that, too!" says Elsie. "For one thing, my milk is extra rich and wholesome to start with. And when they homogenize it, they make it even more delicious and nutritious, so that everyone can drink it and enjoy it. Naturally, I'm pleased as punch about the whole thing. Try Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk—see the way people who 'don't like' milk go for it—then you'll understand why we're so proud!"

● It Looks Better!

You can actually see the difference! Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk has that rich, appetizing, creamy color that instantly convinces you that here is something different and better—that tempts you to drink a big satisfying glass right now!

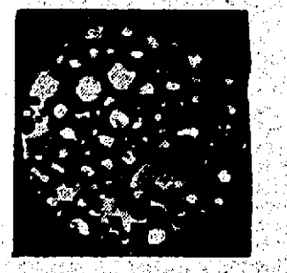
● It Tastes Better!

And when you do taste it, what an amazing difference! It has that delicious, zestful flavor that makes drinking it pure pleasure. And you'll find that it adds tasty extra goodness to breakfast cereals, and to all your cooked dishes, too! There's cream in every drop, from the first to the very last. That's because with Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk "the cream line goes all the way down!"

● It IS Better!

Not only does it taste better and look better—but Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk actually is better! It is improved nutritionally because there's the protection of extra "sunshine" vitamins, so necessary to proper growth and health, especially with children. We add 400 units of this precious bone-and-tooth building vitamin D to every single quart of this finer milk!

Why Homogenized Milk Is Better!



The picture above is a microphotograph—an actual photograph taken through a powerful microscope. It shows what milk looks like as it comes from the cow. The large butterfat globules separate and rise to the top, forming cream which is imperfectly mixed when the bottle is shaken. Result: most of the cream is gone with the first serving.

This second picture is a microphotograph of milk that has been homogenized. The butterfat is now broken up into particles so small that they cannot separate from the milk and rise to the top. Result: the milk has the same rich color and the same creamy, delicious taste from the first drop to the very last. Try it once—you'll notice the difference!

The Cosmic Urge

AS Secretary of State Hull chose to put it in his statement recently the purpose of foreign policy is to focus and give effect in the world outside our borders to the will of 135,000,000 Americans through the constitutional processes which govern our democracy."

The source of foreign policy and the force to carry it out resides in the people, not in statesmen and diplomats. Mr. Hull has been wise in issuing such a reminder. It should be useful not only to the people, but to all officials making decisions in the name of the people.

The United States is still engaged in a discovery which it began to make during and after the first World war. The discovery is that its desire for an orderly and secure world—the cosmic urge—is no substitute for a definitive foreign policy.

This nation rejected the idealism of Woodrow Wilson by constitutional processes, because it was not yet ready to accept the responsibility of backing up its demand for an ordered international society with the machinery to keep order. Gerald W. Johnson, explaining what happened to Wilson's ideals, in "American Heroes and Hero Worship," makes this summary: "The League of Nations was rejected, not by the Republican party, but by the American people; and they rejected it because, in their judgement, the case for it had not been proved."

There can be no argument, in the light of subsequent events, that the case for something besides wishful thinking to preserve peace and security was proved—but the something is still indeterminate. That is why there is an energetic discussion of foreign policy now in progress. It explains the groping search of the people, their political parties and their government for adequate means of implementing their desire for security. And it explains why there is now an insistent demand for specific explanations of what is going on and what is contemplated. It is the will of 135,000,000 Americans exerting itself to find the terms of a better ordered world.

Specified Offensive in the Pacific

ADM. KING'S clear announcement of heavy new blows in the Pacific "within the next few months to come"—and a simultaneous warning to the Japanese not to expect orthodox methods—creates a new perspective on the relationship between the war against Germany and Japan.

It gives official sanction to the possibility that the United States may intensify its offensive action in the Pacific even before the climactic assault on German-held Europe. At the very least, it signifies that the grand Atlantic-Pacific strategy calls for simultaneous action.

By the token that officials as highly placed as Adm. King do not make declaratory statements of intention without good reason, it may now be assumed reasonably that the tremendous fighting power of the Navy, which will reach its maximum potential during 1944, is to be used without delay against Japan's dwindling naval power. Adm. King does not promise that Japan can be reduced to surrender by naval power alone, but it is obvious that with its naval power destroyed, Japan's ability to stay in the war would disappear. It is an island empire. Its defense is based on ability to supply its needs from empire outposts. Adm. King's explanation that its merchant fleet is two-thirds gone and its fighting fleet is so severly damaged that it cannot hope to replace its losses, even if discounted heavily for over-statement, is a clear indication to the nation that official opinion is considerably more sanguine about the progress of the war in the Pacific than public opinion has been up to this point.

Statistical Wages

THOUGH the idea is not new, a proposal in congress for tying wages to cost-of-living statistics is nothing short of startling at this particular juncture in the use of economic statistics.

There would need to be, first of all, a statistical formula for measuring the cost of living which would be acceptable to all parties concerned with its use. The bureau of labor statistics and the labor unions at this moment are approximately 100 per cent apart on their differing indexes, with no prospect of splitting the difference.

Beyond an acceptable formula there would need to be something else even more difficult to attain. It is easy to imagine organized labor accepting wage increases adjusted to a rising cost of living; even though the increases might not seem to be large enough. But it is not easy to imagine organized labor accepting decreases adjusted to a falling cost of living. It is, under existing circumstances, impossible to imagine it. The professed intent of organized labor is to hold existing wage rates at high levels after the war; collective bargaining, not statistics, is the order of the day in wage adjustments.

News Behind the News

Scholarship and Conduct in Schools Called Only Targets of Criticism.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 18—Dear Mr. —— (newspaper publisher).

Watch out for your teacher correspondent, Miss G. She is a type beginning to become familiar to me, the kind trying to turn public attention away from the glaring deficiencies in our educational and youth systems by any distraction, possible or impossible. I got only as far as her sly question as quoted in your newspaper:

"Is Mr. Mallon attacking all American schools and institutions?"

I threw the rest of the clipping away. I do not bother with that kind, which can only represent either intellectual dishonesty or an inability to read plain English. To do so would serve their purposes. They well know what the issue is:

The restoration of discipline in both scholarship and conduct in the schools. Let them talk and write about that.

What has happened in education has become quite clear to me. We went into mass production about 12 to 15 years ago. Education got to be big business, and the classroom an assembly line.

We sacrificed the ideals of workmanship and scholarship to the ideal of numbers. We got to turning out three or four times as many students, but they were less than half educated.

Standards Lowered

How could it be otherwise? The standards naturally had to be lowered to take in everyone. We even got so low in a few progressive educational schools that today there is no standard either of scholarship or discipline except that established by the children themselves.

Grown-up educators, with apparently adult minds, today openly advocate that every child be passed regardless of his mental capacity so he will not personally be ashamed of his deficiency. Imbeciles thus fix our standard. Nearly everywhere we have cut our great educational ideals to some extent to cater to the lowest and the worst of our populace.

This sort of thing cannot continue. The people will not stand for it when they see their children not being properly educated, not being taught to think in accordance with their real ability.

Some corrections are obvious. The restoration of standards is clearly demanded.

California U. Plan

In colleges, this can easily be done by abolishing the elective system, allowing educators to fix the courses rather than the students. This has been started already in California University and must be followed in the high schools where those of sufficient intelligence to hope to go to college must be required to study fundamentals sufficiently to pass college examinations.

Also it must be done in grade schools in order to prepare students properly for high school. For those capable of learning, our course then is clear. Scholarship can be restored in this way alone.

This way also will furnish the beginning of restoration of discipline. Then we will at least develop sufficient leaders to handle our future nation wisely in business, politics, economics, for, from this class of those capable of learning must come our leadership.

Average Child

As for the rest, I am not so certain. I prefer to believe that the average child in the United States is in the first class, but some educators tell be different.

If we are developing such a nation of morons so as not to be able to teach our average child the fundamentals of reading, writing, and arithmetic—if the minds we are spawning are not capable of retaining common education as some educators say—the future of democracy and intelligent decisions by the voting masses of the people is certainly a hazardous prospect. I do not believe these claims can be justified except with strained statistics, counting heavily a large class of backwoods illiterates and imbeciles everywhere.

Special Handling

But, in any case, they must be handled in a special way. We must offer the utmost possible schooling to our least educatable class. It, therefore, must be done in separate classes or separate schools.

What their little minds think about such classification is not half as important to this nation as the maintenance of scholarship for those able to learn. This country cannot be sacrificed to its mental deficients.

Another step absolutely essential is the restoration of the right of punishment to the teachers or principals of all schools. Our youth must be required to study and to accept a social line of discipline and conduct established by the majority. Vandalism, hoodlumism, and sloth must be put down by whatever punishment is required.

The standard for punishment should be that it must be effective. Parent-Teacher associations must insist upon this. School boards must choose high types of men as principals, men capable of disciplinary leadership in accordance with modern psychiatric understandings.

Above all: chase the crackpots out.

Yours sincerely,
PAUL MALLON

Only Congress Can Stop It

Federal Spending Threatens Solvency.

IN A review of federal financial prospects, Ohio Chamber of Commerce makes these recommendations:

That congress should assume fiscal responsibility for the United States.

That it should create a joint committee to study fiscal policy and should define federal functions which can be eliminated, consolidated, or reduced; define how money is to be raised; stress the fact that income must balance outgo in the post-war period if the government is to remain solvent.

These preventive measures are necessary, the review makes clear, because 18 billion dollars is being estimated as the irreducible minimum for the post-war federal budget. Despite the fact this is 10 billion more than the 1939 budget, proposals being considered by congress would create, if enacted, a federal budget of 50 billion dollars a year.

A national deficit of 300 billion is foreseen by the end of the war and its aftermath of spending. Probable interest payments would cost taxpayers from six to eight billion, not including anything for debt retirement.

These are the prospects, as reviewed by Ohio Chamber of Commerce:

Probable cost of operating the army and navy will be at least five billion annually for some years.

The present social security act is costing more than 700 million and will rise sharply after the war. Nevertheless, the administration is advocating the Wagner-Murray bill, which would set up a "cradle to the grave" program costing from 15 to 20 billion a year.

Congress has been asked to appropriate two and a half billion for veterans' aid for the forthcoming fiscal year ending June 30, 1945, not including the three and one-half billion mustering-out pay act, nor the servicemen's aid proposal which it is estimated would cost approximately three and a half billion. In addition, there has been introduced a veteran's bonus bill estimated to cost in the neighborhood of 35 billion.

Post-war public works probably will cost a billion a year, but in addition other public works proposals are pending which would bring the annual cost of public works to five billion.

Congress already has authorized expenditures of one and a third billion for rehabilitation and relief in foreign countries, but other proposals are in existence which would add up to four more billion.

Federal aid for education has been proposed, to cost as much as three billion annually. Other proposals for public welfare, agriculture, forestry and wild life programs would run into additional billions.

Chungking Buses

American bus operators have their troubles, but consider the lot of their brothers in Chungking, China, where only 33 buses run on two main routes in the city. Some of the equipment is of ancient German make, while other vehicles are built on American truck bodies of more recent vintage. Equipped with longitudinal board seats on each side, the vehicles offer straps for standees in abundance. Fuels are difficult to obtain and breakdowns are tragic because spare parts have to be brought in by plane from India and compete with military transportation needs.

Two conductors are necessary on most of the buses, because when the vehicles are fully loaded it is impossible for a conductor to squeeze through the packed aisles to collect fares and give receipts. Coin registers are not used and fares are paid in Chinese dollars. Fifteen dollars is what it costs to ride the express buses in Chungking and that is about equal to 75 cents in Uncle Sam's coin. The fare on local buses is eight Chinese dollars, despite the fact that the main bus lines are only about six miles long.—From Highway Highlights.

Michelson Clears the Air

New Deal Publicist Tells His Story.

ON the eve of almost a certain bid for a fourth term, it is doubtful if there is anyone who has written, without rancor, but with more complete frankness about President Roosevelt than Charles Michelson.

Since Michelson was for 12 years publicity director for the Democratic national committee and most of that time was on the fringe of the "inner circle," this might seem surprising, but not if you know Charlie.

He retired last year of his own volition to make way for younger men, more able physically to stand up to the rough and tumble of national politics. He spends his leisure now playing dominoes with "the boys in the back room" at the National Press club. Except for an outstanding party loyalty, his days of grinding the Democratic ax are over, but no man to whom writing has been second nature for more than 40 years can quit the habit.

His article last month in the American Magazine on the President was a frank appraisal of a man whom he knows well and with whom he has been associated for years. His follow-up article on "The President's Palace Favorites" is even more revealing.

Michelson tells for the first time, so far as I know, the influence that Col. Edward M. House, that shadowy in-and-outer of President Wilson's administration, had in shaping the New Deal. Here is something for the historians to play with and it's certain to lead to an unearthing of Col. House's anonymous novel, "Philip Dru: Administrator," which was written in 1911.

He sketches briefly but revealingly the feud between former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and Cordell Hull that finally forced the former's resignation, and verifies that it was the fundamental differences between the two men that led to the break and not any minor squabble over our policies between Russia, or England, or anyone else.

He emphasizes another point that is interesting: that Bernard Baruch, now special adviser to the director of war mobilization, could have had, on a number of occasions, and probably could even have now any cabinet post he asked for, but that being "as canny as he is wise," has known that he can do more good on the outside than mixed too closely with the "palace guard."

Michelson scores a half dozen other points: why Dr. Stanley High was ousted from the inner circle; the part Raymond Moley played in shaping the New Deal; what happened to "Tommy the Cork" Corcoran; how Harry Hopkins pulled a political boner that has kept him in hot water with administration opponents ever since.

There's much more and if there isn't much that most good Washington reporters haven't suspected all along, there is quite a bit that demanded more than suspicion to put down in black and white.

Michelson is doing one of his best services to the public right now in blowing away some of the clouds that hide the facts about the administrative branch of government and its policies.

G. O. P. Happy in National Leaders

(Editorial from The Spokesman-Review, Spokane, Wash.)

After seeing and hearing Governor John W. Bricker it is easy to understand why the people of Ohio have such confidence in him. He is a big man, physically and mentally. He is straightforward and direct in speech and manner.

He has convictions and voices them with vigor and sincerity. There is nothing artful or equivocal about him. He has faith in America and Americans, believes profoundly in American institutions and the American constitutional system of government. He maintains that the best way to promote liberty in the world is to defend and preserve it here in the United States.

He has a clear conception of the functions of government in this country from study and experience. He has given the great industrial and agricultural state of Ohio a strong, intelligent and efficient administration. He has proved there his ability as an executive and if he should be nominated for President, Republicans could feel that they had a strong and able candidate worthy of the office.

The Republican party is happy in having opportunity to choose its presidential nominee from among such outstanding men as Governors Bricker, Dewey and Stassen.

But distance doesn't matter
In all the ack-ack clatter
When Piqua's kid's the batter
And there's a little matter of extra eggs to lay.

V

Oh Ricksville and Bucyrus! oh, Dayton and Cadiz!
How distant seem Koln, Potsdam and Hanover, gee whiz!
But Apple Creek, Ohio,
Is next door, me oh, my oh!
To Stuttgart as crows fly, oh.
When Piqua's Peerless Pitcher gives Germany to "biz."

VI

Oh Cherry Fork and Jasper, Adelphi, Maple Grove
And Potsdam are but neighbors when Buckeye bombers rove;
From Darrowville to Berlin
Is just short distance whirlin'
With Piqua's pitcher hurlin'
The stuff that strikes out Nazis in the battles up above.

Unbalanced Diet

By Truman Twill

A balanced diet is a scientifically correct mixture of proteins, carbohydrates, leafy green vegetables, calories, vitamins and assorted minerals. It is said to be essential for the growing child.

It has nothing to do with knocking off fried eggs, a coupe of oranges, three pieces of toast and jam, a bowl of patent breakfast food and a slab of cake the first thing in the morning and following them up with an apple, a piece of candy filched from the secretary's desk and a handful of crackers;

Nor with various tasty but dubious concoctions fished out of crumpled sacks and crumby pockets during school hours and recess, nor with pop picked up on quick jaunts to the neighborhood store, blades of new grass, cookies dredged on the way to and from school at the kitchens of hospitable friends; succulent Dagwood sandwiches compiled out of the refrigerator's extra helping of the piece de resistance, and stuff extracted from more crumby pockets, helpings from the raisin box, thefts of a piece of cake purchased from the bakery wagon for the next day;

Nor with more apples, oranges and other fruits in season, second and third glasses of milk, strips and chunks of strange compounds with strong appeal to purchasers with odd pennies to spend, soda fountain mixtures taken aboard on the way home from school, mid-afternoon lunches of fancy cookies, slices of bread, glasses of milk, more soda pop, and other circumstances suitable for appeasing the hungry boy until supper;

Nor with the tendency to eat everything in sight on the table, including sugar stolen when nobody is looking, slabs of butter ingested slyly, pre-meal tastings of what is being prepared, pieces of vegetables left lying loose, hors d'ouevres of every description and some that can't bear description, demands for extra helpings of bread and glasses of jelly;

Assorted nuts placed in the open for constant nibbling, raids on the cracker box beginning minutes after mealtime and continuing until bed time, caches of food placed in bedrooms against hunger in the night, the tradition that children who go to bed without staging a revolution are entitled to gastronomic appeasement, the consumption of various juices, knick-knacks and goodies on during the evening hours, pretzels, still more candy and glasses of water without number, adding up to a daily total of approximately the consumer's entire weight.

It is not a balanced diet, but it seems to do the job.

"ALL-BRAN WORKED WONDERS FOR ME!"

Says Constipation Sufferer

There's real hope for common constipation sufferers in this unsolicited letter!

"Thanks for what KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN has done for me. I'm 74 years old. Had been taking pills and salts almost every night. 4 weeks ago, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning. Soon I had regular movements—without any laxatives. I can't praise ALL-BRAN enough. It sure works wonders for me." Mr. E. C. Look, Box 114, Fairbury, Ill.

How can such amazing results for thousands be explained? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of certain "cellulosic" elements, lack of which in the diet is a common cause of constipation. They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't get real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

WHAT I WANT MOST IS A KITCHEN!

Perhaps you heard the turret-gunner, on a short leave from the war zones, who appeared over a network broadcast a few Tuesday evenings ago. Distance did not permit his going home. Asked what he wanted most, he replied, "A kitchen". There is nothing more typical of the American home than the kitchen. It is unduplicated in England, Africa or the Far East. It is a room of beauty, of modern appliances — or you aspire to make it so. Here gas is the commonly accepted cooking fuel and perhaps it serves your refrigeration needs as well.

If you are disappointed in not being able to replace outmoded appliances at this time, remember that even an humble American kitchen is a dream to those who are denied access to it. With victory will come opportunity again to install a modern gas range with latest refinements, a silent gas refrigerator that freezes without moving parts. Meanwhile take the best possible care of the appliances you have so that they will see you through.

SUPPOSING EVERY CAR IN AMERICA HAD ONLY 3 TIRES

Supposing we woke up tomorrow morning and found that every automobile in every garage in America had one flat tire ruined beyond repair . . . And not one spare tire from Maine to California to replace them! Of course, that isn't going to happen tomorrow, or on any one day . . . but little by little it could happen . . . unless we take care now. It's up to every one of us to guard the mileage in our tires as we have never done before . . . That is our duty and our trust to those who work for us and to those who fight for us.

Mrs. Bricker Addresses Group in Los Angeles

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 18—Speaking at a meeting of representatives from the national committee of Republican women, Mrs. John W. Bricker yesterday declared women must "recapture the spirit of our founding fathers." "With patience and a longtime viewpoint we can regain the qualities of independent freedom which was America," said Mrs. Bricker, wife of Ohio's governor.

Club Study Group Presents Closing Concert of Series

A small but appreciative audience attended the final concert of the current series presented last night by members of the Lecture-Recital Study group in the ball room of the Hotel Harding.

Taking part in the program were Miss Dorothy Gail Stephenson, soprano; Mrs. Beaver Bricker and Miss Mary Heininger, piano duo; Mrs. Virginia Griffiths, soprano and Mrs. Griselda Davis Dombaugh and Miss Wanda McMahon, piano duo. Miss Ethel Faye Locker, who was to appear on the program, was unable to be there because of illness. Her place was taken by Mrs. Griffiths, who sang the following numbers: "The Birth of Morn," Leoni; "Awakening," by Stross; and "Open Thy Heart," by Bizette. The rest of the program was as announced Saturday.

Miss Rosaline Manzo was the accompanist and Miss Wanda McMahon was in charge of the program.

Weddings

Mrs. Wallace Curtis of Bellefontaine is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Margaret Craig to Springer W. Truman. The single ring ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. Arthur T. Tipton of Covington, Ky., on April 10, before an altar decorated with white gladioli and carnations and lighted by candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride wore a grey wool suit with a small matching hat trimmed in veiling. Her accessessories were black and she wore a deep purple orchid. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Mason of Mansfield. Mrs. Mason wore a black tailored suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held at the Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati for a few close friends. After a short wedding trip the couple returned to Marion where they will be at home at 302½ West Center street.

The Methodist church at Spencerville, O., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Evelyn Spires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spires of 779 Silver street, to Pfc. Eugene France, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. France of 536 Lee street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard Black.

The bride chose for her wedding a mellon rose and white dress with black and white accessories. Her flowers were white carnations. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDaniels, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the France home. The bride is employed at Henney and Cooper's Drug store. Pfc. France is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Word was received Sunday from Boston, Mass., of the marriage of Robert S. Richendollar, seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Richendollar of 474 Scranton avenue, to Mrs. Anna Haley of Redville, Mass Seaman Richendoller is stationed at Providence, R. I. News of his marriage came in a telegram received by his sister, Mrs. Roy Scheitler of 705 Sugar street. Before enlisting in the Navy two years ago Seaman Richendollar was employed at the Ohio Blue Limestone Co.

WAGE INCREASE DENIED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 18—The regional war labor board today denied wage increases for approximately 2,200 employes of the International Harvester Co. of Springfield, but ordered that starting rates for women on jobs formerly done by men should be the same as for men.

NURSES' AIDE CLASS OPENING POSTPONED

Delayed Till Next Week Pending Changes at Hospital.

The two new nurses' aide classes originally announced to begin today will start early next week. The classes were postponed because of the moving of patients into the new hospital wing. Both afternoon and evening classes will be held on the third floor of the hospital, the afternoon class beginning at 1 o'clock and the evening class at 7. Mrs. Ethel Merchant, an accredited Red Cross nurse, will be instructor for each.

Applications are still being received for each class but the afternoon class is badly in need of more members. Anyone interested in enrolling may do so by calling Mrs. J. A. Dodd, whose number is 6241. Those who have already enrolled will be notified by Mrs. Dodd as to the exact date the classes are to begin.

Commerce Can't Poach on Santa Claus in Ohio

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—Santa Claus, bless him, is too important to the very life of our children to be commercialized, Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel opined formally today in rejecting a corporation the right to use the patron saint's name in Ohio.

And beyond the sentimental loss in the use of the name, Hummel declared, it "would be likely to mislead the public as to the nature of the business to be transacted by the proposed corporation."

Little children, he said, must not be disillusioned.

"Commercialized use of the name," he went on, "would tend to break down the very thoughts and dreams that are so important to the youth of our country; and everything surrounding the words Santa Claus is something that has been one of the very bulwarks of our entire nation."

Hummel said his opinion followed receipt of a message from the C. T. Corp. System of Pittsburgh asking whether the name "Santa Claus, Inc.," was available to a foreign corporation.

SYDNEY PAPERS WIN BATTLE WITH CENSOR

By The Associated Press

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, April 18 — Sydney Newspapers, armed with a high court injunction, resumed publication today after a one-day suspension caused by censorship authorities, and one immediately blossomed forth with a sharp plea for "your freedom to read, think and write."

The high court yesterday prohibited censors from interfering with publication of six papers in this area whose week-end editions were confisticated because they contained an article relating to "misunderstanding abroad."

Judges commented during the preliminary hearing yesterday that the stories suppressed contained nothing prejudicial to the public safety or the defense of the commonwealth, or of value to the enemy. The suit to test the legality of the censor's action will be heard Friday.

The Daily Telegraph devoted four and a half pages today to a chronological story of events leading up to the dispute, which became so heated crowds gathered in the streets yesterday shouting "gestapo" and "freedom of the press lies amouldering in its grave."

(While the "misunderstandings" have not been specified in Sydney dispatches, it was believed the reference was to the surprise expressed in the United States over the announcement that 90,000 men would be trimmed from the Australian army.)

DELAY AUTO MAKING DESPITE WORK LAG

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Unemployment may hit Detroit before the year's end, but the automobile industry must wait until Germany or Japan is knocked out before putting men to work on new passenger cars.

With this notification from official quarters, the nine pre-war producers of automobiles today prepared plans for partial or complete demobilization of their plants.

Individual company reports, which later will be combined into a single plan for the whole industry, were asked by the war production board yesterday at the close of WPB's reconversion conference with the automobile industry advisory committee, attended by 17 leading motor executives.

Some joblessness in the industry appears inevitable this year because of pending cutbacks and war contract completions, the motor makers told WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson. Much graver unemployment will occur, they said, when Germany falls and arms schedules are cut accordingly.

Nelson's reply was interpreted by WPB spokesmen as meaning he favored a start on civilian production shortly after either major enemy was vanquished.

A partial restoration of passenger car output, based on the "practical minimum" number of vehicles which each company could produce at a profit, is the plan favored by the government, WPB indicated. This ran counter to the opinions of most of the industry chiefs.

The first meeting of the recently organized County Extension Council was held last night with 18 members representing nine school districts present. The following officers were named: Jay Hawser of Martel, chairman; R. T. Thew of Grand Prairie, vice chairman, and Miss Marie Bender of Waldo, secretary. The council consists of a man and woman chosen from each of the 13 school districts. They will act as advisory agents for extension agents and will assist in making program plans for the year.

It was decided the council will also include representatives from the Farm Bureau, Marion County Grange, Beekeepers' association, Marion Milk Producers Association, Senior and Junior Fair Boards, and the County Home Council.

MAN WOUNDED IN QUARREL AT ADA

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 18 — Elza Feister, 32, of Ada was shot in the abdomen early this morning after engaging in a quarrel with Mrs. Helen Miller Ellis, 36, also of Ada, at whose home he had been rooming, sheriff's deputies reported. The shooting occurred about 3:30 this morning after Feister had been ordered out of the house by Mrs. Ellis, deputies were told. According to Feister's story, he was standing outside when Mrs. Ellis shot him with a .22 calibre rifle. He was rushed to McKitrick hospital in Kenton where an emergency operation was performed. He was reported to be in fair condition this morning. Mrs. Ellis is being held in Hardin county jail on open charges. Deputy Sheriff Ray Comstock is conducting an investigation.

Pilot Falls from Plane, Loses Only His Shoes

By The Associated Press

WINFIELD, Kan., April 18—Lt. Edward J. Vallish of Akron, O., an instructor at Strother army air field, today told how he lost his shoes in falling out of his plane, but landed safely by parachute while a surprised cadet brought the ship down alone.

Vallish gave this account of the incident which occurred Sunday:

Cadet Paul Jenkins of Tampa, Fla., was receiving instructions in the front cockpit by radio during a slow roll of 8,500 feet when Vallish's microphone tangled in his safety belt and the catch snapped open.

The plane was upside down with the canopy open and Vallish started to fall out. His hand hit the release on the canopy, snapping it shut on his feet. The lieutenant's shoes came off, however, and he fell free, landing by parachute in his socks.

GALION GRID COACH GOES TO MANSFIELD

Lymper To Succeed Paul Snyder for Duration.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 18—James L. Lymper, head football coach at Galion High school for the last two seasons, will leave Galion at the end of the school term to become grid coach of Mansfield High school, succeeding Paul Snyder, who is leaving for military service.

Lymper, widely known throughout the North Central Ohio scholastic league in which the Galion team participated, attracted statewide attention a year ago when he was named in a common pleas court case at Bucyrus by Bill Stoner who sought a court order to reinstate him on the Galion team. Lymper had removed Stoner from the squad. The case was eventually dismissed.

The Galion board of education is scheduled to consider a field of possible successors at a meeting tonight.

Lymper is understood to have taken the head coach job at Mansfield, embracing both the senior and junior high schools, with the understanding he will serve while Snyder is in service and then become assistant when Snyder returns.

Lymper went to Galion in 1941, coached junior high football, basketball and baseball the first year and then became head football and baseball coach. He is 36, has four children. He was a member of the University of Chicago team that toured Japan in 1928 and was All Big Ten third baseman three years.

KEYNOTER

without any definite ideas about who the keynoter should be.

There were open campaigns in progress for Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (Conn) and Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, but Vandenberg also seemed to have strong support among the early arrivals for a two-day session which will dispose of routine matters today and pick the temporary (keynoter) and permanent chairmen tomorrow.

Rep Reece (Tenn), a committee member, said he thought Vandenberg would "do a good job" in providing a well-phrased speech that would touch off convention fireworks.

Most of the delegates believed Rep. Martin, (Mass) house minority leader, would be selected for permanent chairman.

Ohioan May Support Connecticut Woman

CHICAGO, April 18 — Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, O., Republican national committeewoman, indicated she might decide today whether to support Rep. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut as the party convention's first woman keynoter.

"She'd be extremely interesting and do a good job," Mrs. Brown observed.

The move to pick Mrs. Luce gained momentum last night under direction of John Kenneth Bradley, national committeeman from Connecticut, as members of the arrangements committee began arriving. The group contains 11 women.

Newark Ball Club Acts To Incorporate

Among the concerns that filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday in Columbus was the Newark Baseball Co., The Associated Press reported. It was incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000 and its incorporators are Harry W. Arnold, Frank W. Spencer and Arch P. Davis.

The company will operate the Newark club in the Ohio State league, a six-team circuit which includes the new Marion team.

INVOKE STRICT BAN IN BRITAIN

Diplomatic Travel Halted and Mail Made Subject To Censorship.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 18 — Britain today banned trips outside this country by diplomats of all neutral and Allied nations except the United States, Russia and the British commonwealth and made all their communications subject to full censorship.

The action, latest in a series of steps taken to safeguard invasion information, was without precedent, but the foreign office announced "military operations impending in the present year" made it imperative. Washington and Moscow were consulted in the move.

The order in effect immobilized the diplomats and their staffs, including air, military and naval attaches, within Britain's shores for the time being. None may go home.

Censor Diplomatic Mail

Diplomatic pouches, heretofore inviolate, now will be opened and all their contents put through the censorship mill. Not even in the first World war was such action taken. Coded telegrams are banned.

The regulations went into effect at midnight and will remain in force until further notice.

"Any inadvertent disclosure of information which resulted in helping the enemy or in unnecessary loss of British or Allied lives might have such serious effects, not only upon the course of these (invasion) operations * * * that the government has reluctantly felt bound to adopt this unusual security measure," the foreign office said.

Area Banned To Visitors

Previous steps to keep invasion information from leaking included banning visitors from an area 10 miles deep and 700 miles long on England's southern and eastern coasts, suspension of all except the most vital travel between England and Ireland, prohibition of all news concerning convoy arrivals and suspension of air mail between Britain and neutral countries.

(A Bern broadcast recorded last night by CBS quoted German military circles as saying the invasion "will not be long delayed." A German transmission heard by the U. S. broadcast intelligence service suggested a leeway of six weeks.)

The ban on the departure of diplomats from Britain affected all neutral ambassadors and ministers as well as the lesser members of their staffs.

Although no mention of civilian travel was made in the new order, it was obvious that civilians would not be permitted to depart for neutral countries except under unusual circumstances.

Knox Tells Japs They Can Expect Kurile Invasion

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — Invasion of a part of the Japanese Kurile island chain reaching north from the enemy homeland may be expected, Secretary of the Navy Knox said today.

Asked at a news conference whether it was likely the United States would attempt to take that island group in the north Pacific, he replied "sometime, sure, but nobody knows when."

The discussion was prompted by increasing regularity of American bombing raids on islands in the chain which extends from the Japanese mainland north to the Russian Kamachatka peninsula.

Among the bases which have been struck frequently there, particularly in the last five days, is Matsuwa, less than 500 miles from the mainland of Japan. Other bases frequently bombed from the air are Chimusu, Paramushiro, northernmost of the group, and Onekotan.

Knox, discussing the war in the Pacific, said developments have been confined to bombardment of the Kuriles and continuing aerial assault on enemy positions cut off from supplies in the eastern Marshalls, and the regular bombings of the enemy bases in the Caroline island group, including Truk and Ponape.

He said the Japanese evidently "trying their best to get some supplies" into the isolated bases in the eastern part of the mid-Pacific Marshalls, but "without much success." From six to 10 barges a day are being sunk as they attempt to run supplies into the bases," the Navy secretary said.

CHILD DROWNED IN HARDIN CO. CISTERN

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hale Victim of Mishap.

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 18—John Wesley Hale, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hale of Hepburn road, fell into a cistern and drowned yesterday shortly after noon, Coroner John A. Mooney reported today.

No one saw the accident. The mother missed the child about 1 p. m. and went in search of him. He had been missing about 20 or 30 minutes when his body was found in the cistern. The Kenton fire department were summoned but efforts to revive the child were futile.

Surviving with the parents are three other children, Jimmy, 4, Dixie, 3 and Patricia Anne, one month. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Price funeral home with Rev. Dwight Klymier, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Burial will be in Grove cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Lt. Roger Rice Listed As Missing in Action

Mrs. Shirley Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pierce of Franklin street, received word Saturday night from the war department that her husband, Lt. Roger Rice, was reported missing in action, following a bomber raid over Germany on April 1. Mr. Pierce is manager of the Marion Water Co.

Lt. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rice of Tiltonsville, O., is pilot of a Liberator bomber, stationed in England. He never made his home here. Mrs. Rice has lived with both her parents and her husband's family since he entered service. When she received the report she was staying in Tiltonsville.

Carry AAA Gas Ration Fight to Franklin Co.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—The Ohio Wheat Marketing Quota Protest association carried its fight against the agricultural adjustment administration into Franklin county last night with H. H. Fackler of Plymouth, state president, urging the election of men "who will abolish the AAA."

A group of approximately 35 farmers heard Fackler assert that "if we are going to keep the United States free and strong, it is up to the farmers to do it by tossing out government restrictions on us."

Several weeks ago a group of farmers visited the attorney-general's office here to protest activity by the AAA in the rationing of gasoline used for non-highway purposes and prior to that another group in Darke county was reported by the AAA to have destroyed forms used in gasoline rationing.

Public Concern for Imphal Fades As News Clears

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's favorable overall assurance regarding the allied position in relation to the Japanese invasion of the remote Manipur district of northeast India should help dispel some of the public concern which has been created in allied countries by lack of adequate official news of the operations.

If we could reach the admiral for personal comment, he probably would advise us in nautical language to hold the ship steady as she goes. There's nothing on the face of the situation to warrant us in refusing to accept the assurances of the high command that the allies have the invasion in hand.

What we seem to have been up against mainly has been faulty official presentation of the news. Judging from the strike of five British war correspondents against the censorship, there may also have been a fresh exhibition of stupid hamstringing of the press. Certainly the communiques dealing with the invasion of India have, either by intent or through bungling, concealed what they should have revealed and thus have created for the average reader a worrying mystery. And, of course, this inadequate news has invited outbursts from the calamity merchants.

Never a Major Threat

Analysis of all the circumstances surrounding this Japanese invasion make it clear that it never has presented a major threat to India proper, whose capital of New Delhi lies some 1,200 miles away as the crow flies. How could three or four divisions of men seriously threaten that vast subcontinent?

The British have at least a million troops, trained and fully armed, ready for action in India. They have hundreds of thousands of reserves. They have vast quantities of materiel, for not only is India the arsenal of the orient but America and Britain have shipped mountains of equipment into the country. There are powerful American and British air forces in that theater. And there are transport facilities available to move adequate aid to the invasion area.

So if the allied command hadn't provided the necessary defense, it would have represented a dumb and colossal blunder. However, we are assured that adequate help has been provided and is now in operation.

But how could such a small Japanese force penetrate into India if the allies were prepared? Well, it's the easiest thing in the world for enemy columns to outflank one another in jungles so dense that one can see only a few yards. I've been in the jungles of South America and Africa and have flown over Burma, and have no delusions on that score.

It has been easy for the Nipponese to penetrate to the big plain in which stands the city of Imphal—the main allied base in that theater. Imphal is the immediate objective of the enemy. He wants it so that he himself can have a base from which he can strike at the allied communications just to the west—the highways, the Bengal-Assam railway and the navigable Brahmaputra river. If he could cut them he would force the allies to fall back on air transport to maintain a life-line to China.

However, Mountbatten's headquarters assures us that the plain of Imphal is strongly held by allied forces, and that the city is secure. So is the town of Kohima, sixty miles north of Imphal.

A month from now the Burmese jungle will be deluged from the monsoon which will last until fall. If the invading Japanese are still sticking to the Manipur district without a base, they will indeed be in a bad way, for the jungle paths will be turned into raging torrents.

There's no reason for us to conjure up bugbears out of this situation.

COURT LEVIES HEAVY FINE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 18—A $25,000 fine, $20,000 of which was suspended, and five suspended sentences of a year and a day each were imposed in federal court yesterday against J. Julius Bowman, Cincinnati real estate man and apartment house operator, on his plea of guilty to a charge of violating rent ceiling regulations.

P. J. HABERMAN DIES OF SUDDEN ILLNESS

Retired Crossing Watchman Taken by Death.

Phillip J. Haberman died suddenly last night at 255 South State street where he made his home.

Dr. R. L. Morgan, Marion county coroner, pronounced cause of death a heart attack. He had eaten his evening meal and was seated in a chair when he was stricken about 6 p. m.

A retired watchman at the Greenwood street railroad crossing, he was in ill health since Christmas. He was a resident of Marion nearly 76 years, living almost all his life here. His wife, Mrs. Sarah Haberman, died Aug. 17, 1938.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edwin Francis of Columbus, technician at Mt. Carmel hospital, there, two sons, Edgar Haberman of Lima and Karl Haberman of Columbus, two sisters, Miss Amanda Haberman of Delaware and Mrs. Louise Stoll, of Louisville, Ky., and a brother-in-law, Brooks Stouffer, at whose home he lived for some time.

The body was taken to the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue.

Wheeler Says President's Health Blocks 4th Term

BOSTON, April 18 — Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D-Montana), thinks President Roosevelt's health will keep him seeking a fourth term, that no military man can be elected president and that Gov. Thomas A. Dewey of New York will be elected president next fall.

The senator, here for a speaking engagement, gave his views to newspapermen at a press conference last night.

"President Roosevelt's health," he said, "has not been good since the Teheran conference. Because of it, he will not be a candidate. In fact, I am certain he does not want the nomination.

"I don't believe General George Marshall will be nominated. I don't think the American people should elect a military man. I feel the same way about any general, including General MacArthur."

Wheeler maintained that the Democratic party had been in power too long and that, as a result, had made many enemies.

ARRAIGNED IN JAIL

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—Justice of the Peace Jesse G. Evans of Reynoldsburg today was asked to conduct an arraignment in the Franklin county jail for George Pierce, 46, charged in an affidavit with first degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Lavina, last March 25. Pierce is recovering from gunshot wounds which Coroner E. E. Smith said were self-inflicted. Mrs. Pierce and her son, Homer, 16, were killed in the shooting affray at their farm home and a daughter, Lentrice, 18, was wounded. The affidavit was filed yesterday.

OFFICIALS INSPECT NEW GIANT OF AIR

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — Official Washington swarmed to National Airport today to have a closeup look at the Lockheed Constellation, graceful sky-giant whose hop from the Pacific coast yesterday involved the fastest flight of comparable length in history.

Army and Navy men had the right of way for today's inspection and tomorrow was set aside for members of congress to see the ship.

The Constellation, a 40-ton, four-engine plane capable of carrying 100 fully equipped soldiers, arrived yesterday only 6 hours 58 minutes out of Burbank, Calif., a flight of somewhere between 2,300 and 2,600 miles at an average speed of around 353 miles an hour. It carried a crew of five and 12 passengers.

The fastest previous continental crossing was a 2,445-mile flight from Burbank to Newark, N. J., in 7 hours 28 minutes. That mark was set by Howard R. Hughes, flying alone in a specially built speedster.

Hughes was co-pilot of the Constellation when it exceeded his record.

Sentenced to Prison on Charge of Rape

Frank Blanton, indicted by the Marion County grand jury on a charge of rape, was given a sentence of one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary after pleading guilty to the charge Saturday in common pleas court. He was returned to the county jail pending his removal to the penitentiary. Blanton was charged with raping a girl under 16 years of age.

Ball Teams Start Third War Season

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 18—The major baseball leagues open their third wartime season today—a campaign that has been forecast as one of the most keenly contested in years because of draft uncertainties.

Some 125,000 persons are expected to witness the eight scheduled games in the American and National loops, each complete with band music and other traditional first day ceremonies.

This is far short of prewar opening day crowds, but the boys in the front offices are convinced that because of the anticipated close competition, the season total attendance for both circuits will exceed the 7,714,636 of a year ago and perhaps the 8,871,755 of 1942.

The world champion New York Yankees open on the road against the Boston Red Sox while the St. Louis Cardinals, National League champs, entertain the Pittsburgh Pirates at home. The Washington Senators will put on the most glamorous inaugural spectacle.

With President Roosevelt away on a brief vacation, Vice President Wallace has assumed the role of chief throwerouter of the first ball, a scene to be duplicated by other dignitaries at New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit and Chicago.

Sharing the limelight with Wallace at Washington will be 81-year-old Connie Mack, the "grand old gentleman" of the national game, who is starting his 61st season in the sport as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. Mr. Mack thinks his A's tailenders last year, have a chance this season and he is counting on his Lu-man Harris to chalk up victory No. 1 by outpiching Johnny Niggeling.

The Cincinnati Reds, picked by sportswriters as the team likely to end St. Louis's bid for a third straight National league flag, expected the largest turnout of the day, some 27,000, to get a glimpse of the Reds and Chicago Cubs. Bucky Walters of the Reds has been nominated to oppose Hank Wyse on the mound in a battle that may duplicate last year's 1 to 0 Cincinnati triumph.

Paul "Dizzy" Trout of Detroit is the only 20-game winning pitcher of 1943 nominated to work opening day. Some 22,000 are expected at Briggs stadium in Detroit to watch him toil against the St. Louis Browns.

Hank Borowy is listed to pitch for the Yanks against the Red Sox while southpaw Max Lanier, will toe the slab for the Cardinals against Pittsburgh. Rip Sewell, who won 21 games for the Pirates last year, has been supplanted by a rookie, Elwin Roe.

In other games the Brooklyn Dodgers play the Phillies at Philadelphia, the Boston Braves at New York, Giants, and the Cleveland Indians at Chicago, White Sox. Orval Grove is expected to oppose southpaw Al Smith of the Indians.

Bowling

K. Little was the star individual bowler in a special match game rolled on the Palace Recreation lanes Sunday between the Marion Steam Shovel team and the Osgood team when he marked up two 206 single scores and a series total of 576. The Shovel team won.

Saturday night a game postponed from Friday night in the Commercial league was rolled on the Palace lanes with Omar Bakery defeating the Boyd-Uncapher team. L. Myers of the Omars had the high single score with 187 and also was high for series with 525.

Individual three-game series totals in the two games follow:

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

Omar Bakery—Myers 525, Robinson 419, McDonald 437, Phillians 494, Hanovich 471; total 2346.

Boyd-Uncapher—Feller 417, Ireibert 461, Hannel 428, Herriot 382, Hoffman 409, Hdcp. 21; total 2118.

SPECIAL MATCH GAME

Marion Steam Shovel — Redding 521, Benson 467, Owens 538, Little 576, Thibaut 528; total 2650.

Osgood — Binnert 415, McClure 433, Rukekle 400, Hecker 515, Clark 478; total 2374.

Only Three Indians Playing Today Who Started Year Ago

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 18—Cleveland's Indians open the championship season against the Chicago White Sox today with a lineup of only three players who were present when the 1943 campaign began.

Manager and shortstop Lou Boudreau, third baseman Ken Keltner and outfielder Roy Cullenbine are the holdovers from last year.

Al Smith, who paced the Tribe mound corps with 17 victories, and defeated the pale hose five times in as many starts last season, opposes Orval Grove, who has become the ace of the Sox staff in one year.

Jim McDonnell, 21-year-old Wilkes-Barre rookie, forms the other half of the Indian battery. Another untried recruit, Paul O'Dea, has been assigned to left field and the cleanup position in the batting order.

Pat Seery, the Irishman who played only occasionally last season, starts in right field. The shoulder injury which outfielder Oris Hockett received in an exhibition game two weeks ago prevented him from breaking into the lineup.

Jeff Heath, the Indians' tardy Tarzan who agreed to terms yesterday, won't start but may be used as a pinch-hitter or as a defensive fly-chaser.

Allie Reynolds, who led the American league in strikeouts last year, was in Cleveland today arranging to take his preinduction physical examination but is expected back in time to hurl the second game of the series with the White Sox.

The Sox lineup includes two former Indians, first baseman Hal Trosky, making a comeback after two years' of retirement, and shortstop Skeeter Webb.

Rain Threatens Game at Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 18—Cloudy skies and threatening rain greeted 27,000 baseball fans today who filled Crosley field stands to see the Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago Cubs open the 1944 season.

Bucky Walters, veteran right-hander, was to take the mound for the Reds immediately after Mayor James G. Stewart pitched the traditional "first ball" to City Manager W. B. Kellogg.

Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs was not certain who would pitch for his team but he narrowed the field down to Henry Wyse or Ed Hanyzewski.

Ironically pessimistic, Bill McKechnie, the Reds' manager, would not hazard a statement on his team's chances in this year's pennant race.

His club already has given up 27 men to the armed forces and of the 30 players now on his roster, four have been sworn in and are awaiting call to duty. These are Max Marshall, Clyde Shoun and Joe Beggs, in the Navy and Bob Malloy in the Army.

21 at Baseball Tryout Opener; 3 from Marion

Three Marion youths, three from Ashley and one from Galion were among the 21 young Ohioans who turned out for the opening session of the baseball school and tryouts of the Marion Baseball club yesterday at Lincoln park.

Manager Grover Hartley looked over the bunch, most of them 16 and 17 years old, nodded his head approvingly and declared to bystanders he could dish up a good 15-man squad out of that bunch if no more candidates showed up, but he added that there will be other prospective players here later to help round out the squad.

The park was pretty wet yesterday so Hartley gave up plans for a morning workout, telling the boys to wait until 1:30 when the park would be not quite so muddy. When he arrived shortly before 1:30, he found some of them, equipped with some bats and balls they had brought with them, pounding the balls all over the diamond.

No Decisions for a Week

Hartley plans to warm the boys up gradually and probably won't put them through their final paces for another week. All of them will get at least a one-week tryout before Hartley makes any attempt to make selections. Like any conscientious manager, he is trying to reserve judgement until all of the prospective players have had a chance to demonstrate all of their good points on the diamond.

Robert Ballinger, Bud Wygle and Bob Walsh are the Marion players who joined the tryout group yesterday. Those from Ashley were George Buchanen, Manley Corbin and Donald Peak. The Galion entry is Eddie Carmel.

Others in the list were William Hibscher and Robert Boddy of Toledo, William Merriman, Carl Woodruff, Jack Woods and Bob Fearing, all of Columbus, Jerry McGrath, Bob Schriner and Richard Crouser of Lakewood, Richard Lydick and Max LaRoche of Findlay, Joe Bailey of Troy, Richard Swind of Shilo, Bob Scoartz and Jim Sheeley of Shelby.

Light Workout

Yesterday's menu consisted of a little throwing, running and general warming up. Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen, president of the club and a former player, joined the workout group for a few minutes but decided most of his participation in the game this year would be from the stands.

Hartley said he intends to work with the group, plus any others that come in this week, and then round out his squad with some optioned players which he expects to get from the Alanta, Ga., team, the Indianapolis team in the American association and possibly some from other teams.

Yesterday's turnout, while fairly versatile, had only three pitcher candidates. "Everybody wanted to play first base — we had five ask for that spot," Hartley said.

Stadium Roof Planned

One of yesterday's developments was virtual assurance that the stadium at Lincoln park where all home games will be played will have a lid on it early in the season. Hartley said a carpenters' union had offered the volunteer services of about 15 of its members to do the work if the club could scrape together enough salvage lumber for the job. Judge Hazen and L. A. Axe were busy yesterday trying to arrange for the materials.

Meanwhile, club officials are busy with governmental procedure necessary to get lights installed. The Tiffin lighting equipment will be used, but the club still needs a transformer which can be purchased only with WPB approval.

Huber Team Honored as County Champions

Members of the Huber Co. basketball teams were honored with a banquet at Hotel Harding Monday night, given by the company in celebration of the men's team winning the county championship. The girls' team, the first formed in the company, took second place in the league.

The actual awards will be made at a banquet of the Marion County Basketball League Monday night in the Y. M. C. A.

Approximately 15 were present and guests were: Thad Kuenzli, personnel manager, Marion Mewhorter, physical director at the Y. M. C. A. and R. E. O'Connell, treasurer. Eugene Reith served as manager and coach for both teams.

PRESIDENT OF A. A. CONFIDENT LEAGUE WILL LAST SEASON

Trautman Sees Nothing To Prevent Loop from Playing All Games.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—George M. Trautman, president of the American Association, predicted today that nothing but new government rules or regulations would prevent the league from playing out its 43rd baseball season which opens tomorrow.

The same eight cities which had clubs when the association was formed in 1902 will be represented when "play ball" is sounded in Indianapolis, Louisville, Kansas City and Milwaukee.

"The spirit of optimism that prevails among our club owners as we start out third war year of play is remarkable," Trautman said. "One might expect, in view of the uncertainty of conditions, that there would be considerable doubt over the ability of the American Association to complete its season. I discovered none whatever at our league meeting in St. Louis last week.

"It has been said that the caliber of play in the American association will not be as high this year as in past seasons. Possibly that is true, but the same thing prevails in the major leagues. Our clubs appear to be evenly matched and that is what counts more than anything else."

Trautman's season-opening statement came as he headed for Milwaukee to watch last year's pennant-winning Brewers start against St. Paul.

Six clubs will play off the lid in night games. Indianapolis will entertain Toledo under the lights. Louisville will do the same as host to Columbus and so will Kansas City in entertaining Minneapolis. The Milwaukee-St. Paul tilt will be the only afternoon opener.

The Brewers will open the season as favorites of sports writers in the league to win but lost in the first round of the Shaughnessy playoffs to Columbus. The Red Birds went on to win the playoff title and then won the little world series for the third straight year.

John Schmidt To Lead Ohio State Track Team

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18 — John Schmidt, Ohio university senior, will captain the OSU track team this spring, assistant Track Coach George Haney announced yesterday.

Schmidt, the only senior on the squad, will serve in the absence of Dallas Dupre, who now is in midshipman's school at Asbury Park, N. J. The new captain held the conference indoor pole vault championship for two years.

WILLIAMS WILL GET MONTGOMERY FIGHT

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 — Ike Williams today pounded on Bob Montgomery's door — ready, willing and qualified for a shot at the Pa.-N.Y.-N.J. version of the lightweight title held by the Bobcat.

Ike qualified for a return bout by blasting Mike Delia's aspirations last night in one minute and 54 seconds of the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

An SRO crowd of 9,477 paid $26,777.80 (gross) to watch Williams climb through the rope with a scowl on his face, fuss over the laces on his gloves and, at the bell, proceed to belt the former Californian into oblivion.

Delia never got started. The Trenton, N. J., boy smothered him with a volley of left jabs, which succeeded in lifting Delia's head in the air, then caught him flush on the jaw with a wicked left hook and floored him with a right cross.

Promoter Herman Taylor virtually had promised the winner of last night's battle a fight with Montgomery before the latter, who was accepted by the army last Wednesday, goes into service. The Bobcat was at the ringside but showed no emotion over the blitzing of Delia.

One Dead, Five Children Are Injured in Blaze

By The Associated Press

CAMPBELL, O., April 18 — An eight-month old baby is dead and five other children are in St. Elizabeth's hospital, three in serious condition, from a fire which Fire Chief James Gustnell, said began when the children apparently overturned a kerosene lamp in the bedroom in which they were locked last night.

The dead: Lucille Ruth Martin.

In the hospital: Anne Loise Martin, 3, serious; Sylvester Martin, 2, serious; Worth Martin Jr., 4, serious; Elvestra Martin, 2, twin of Sylvester, and Benjamin Gearo, 2.

Worth Martin father of the five children, said he left the house about 6 p. m. to visit a friend. His wife left earlier to see a doctor, he said.

KENTON, O., April 18—Judge Arthur D. Tudor overruled the motion of defense attorneys for a new trial for Richard Knight, 38, who nearly 10 years ago pleaded guilty to first degree murder in the robbery-slaying of Loyal W. Senn, Dunkirk grocer, and who only recently was freed from Ohio penitentiary under habeas corpus proceedings which charged he had been sentenced without trial. At the same time, the court granted a defense motion to prepare a transcript of the case without cost to the defendant, who is penniless

Hold Senior Play Dress Rehearsal

Dress rehearsal for the Harding High school senior class play, "Summer at the Seagull," was held last night in the school gym. Another rehearsal will be held tonight in the school gym. Another rehearsal will be held tonight after school and Wednesday morning the cast will go to the Palace theater for a stage rehearsal before presenting the play in matinee and evening performances Thursday.

The house is sold out for the evening performance, a check of the ticket sales today disclosed. The matinee performance will be at 2:30 p. m. and the evening performance at 8:15. Doors of the theater will be opened at 2 and 7:30 p. m. Tickets still are available for the matinee but are not reserved.

The Harding High school orchestra, under the direction of Homer E. Huffman, instructor of instrumental music in the public schools, will play a program as the show patrons are being seated for the evening performance. Ticket holders are urged to come early and be in their seats when the curtain rises as no one will be seated after the show begins until the first intermission.

The play is being directed by Miss Lucile Foreman, assisted by Miss Eloise Coffman, junior play coach. The setting is a summer theater on Cape Cod and the story is woven around "Judy Jerome," a famous movie star on vacation

ACTOR TO SPEAK AT DINNER TONIGHT

Louis Lytton on University Women's Program.

Louis Lytton, actor, critic, dramatist and lecturer, will be a guest speaker when members of the Marion Association of University Women meet for dinner and a program this evening at Hotel Harding.

Dinner will be at 6:30 o'clock and the program at 8 o'clock. Holders of patron tickets and others interested in hearing the talk may attend the program. A small admission charge will be asked for non-members and those without season tickets.

Mr. Lytton has long been associated with the stage and has a wide acquaintance with celebrities of stage and screen. A self-styled "Strolling Player" he entertains with portrayals and tales of his life and the lives of his associates.

Mr. Lytton was a guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Marion Rotary club today.

Drop Plans for Special Legislation for 4-Fs

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—The house military committee today abandoned plans for special legislation to force 4-Fs into essential work through the threat of induction into Army and Navy labor battalions.

Chairman May (D-Ky) announced following an executive meeting that the committee had decided that government agencies such as selective service and the war manpower commission already had ample authority to require physically disqualified men to move into essential jobs.

The committee acted after Rep Costello (D-Calif), chairman of a sub-committee that has been studying draft policies, asserted his group had agreed that special legislation was not necessary at this time

YOUNG REPUBLICAN GROUP HEARS MEETING REPORT

Account of State Meeting Given by Harry Cahill.

A report on the state convention of Young Republican clubs held in Columbus April 15 and 16 was given by Harry Cahill at a special meeting of the Marion County Young Republican club Monday night.

Second nominations for club officers were called for with election to be held at the next regular meeting, May 1.

A house committee composed of James E. Reed, Mrs. Walter Bailey, Mrs. Harold Lauer, Harry Cahill and Harry V. Mounts was appointed to secure ground floor headquarters for the club.

Candidates for local county offices were guests.

LUNCHEON MEETING

A 1 o'clock luncheon was served at Hotel Harding Monday to members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Railway Mail Carrier Clerks association, Marion branch. Mrs. J. C. Luvisi presided in the absence of the president, who was ill. A notice was read that A. J. Matson is in a veterans hospital near Cleveland, also that Mrs. Roger Ruhl entered Galion hospital yesterday for an operation. Roll call was answered with Bible verses. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Luvisi will entertain the group at the next meeting.

GUARD UNIT ENLARGED TO QUOTA OF 60 MEN

Plan Drive for New Members; Auxiliary To Be Formed.

The official order for Co. H, Marion unit of the Ohio State Guard to transfer to the newly formed Fourth Infantry Regiment hasn't been received here by Capt. Carl Ebert yet, but plans were announced at the school Monday night that a recruiting drive would be started immediately to boost membership to 60. The campaign for new members is being based on previous communications which stated that instead of 50 the membership was being upped 10 more.

In connection with this drive, Sgt. Tim Fahey supervised a window display in the Fahey Bank on North Main street in which a portion of the guard equipment may be seen. The exhibit includes guns, kits, machine gun and some personal equipment and grenades.

In addition to enlistments accepted at the Armory, it was announced that during the drive they would be accepted by Tim Fahey at the bank, sergeant in the guard, or by Elmer E. Smith, clerk of courts, first lieutenant of the unit.

With thousands of men serving in the armed forces, the new added strength of the State Guard is necessary to protect the home front, officers pointed out. All men between the ages of 18 and 65, who are not able to serve with active forces abroad are welcomed into the guard. The training program will benefit any man physically, regardless of age, Capt. Ebert pointed out.

Drill will be held tonight at the Armory and the officers are hoping for a 100 per cent attendance in what will probably be the last official drill for Co. H before the unit is shifted from the Second to the Fourth regiment.

Plans were also made for a ladies' auxiliary to be formed for wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of all members. The first meeting will be held tonight. Such auxiliaries have been formed in other companies but the group will be first started in Marion.

Epworth Group Hears Marion Scout Leaders

The W. S. C. S. of Epworth Methodist church met Thursday afternoon in the church parlors with Miss Edith Treat and Hugh Hay appearing as guest speakers. Miss Treat listed work done by the Girl Scouts and Mr. Hay told of Boy Scout accomplishments. It was announced the last quarterly conference meeting would be April 25 following a supper at the church. Mrs. Filmore Young presided as program chairman and Mrs. F. L. Hoover was in charge of musical numbers presented by a group of Moral pupils. Program included a cello solo by Barbara Anderson with a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Hoover and two numbers by a girl sextet. Mrs. J. W. Jolley chose "Infant Voices" as the theme for devotions. Candlelight service was conducted by Mrs. Rex Robinson and a discussion of the church's response to a youth movement was given by Miss Margaret Huffman.

83 GIVEN HIGHEST AWARDS SINCE 1941

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—The nation's highest military decoration, the medal of honor, has been awarded to 83 Army, Navy and Marine men in the two and a quarter years since Pearl Harbor.

This compared with 114 awards made to men fighting in the year and a half of World war I. The comparison, however, does not indicate there are numerically fewer heroes in this conflict.

A large number of the World war I decorations were made in post-war days after a board of awards had reviewed all actions. It is expected the same procedure will be followed after this war.

Of the 83 awards since Dec. 7, 1941, 39 have been made to Army personnel, 29 to Navy men, 14 to Marines and one to a coast guardsman. Many were made posthumously.

Those who have received the medal of honor in this war include.

Army—Gen. Douglas MacArthur; Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle; Technician 5th grade Lewis Hall, Columbus, O.; Pfc. Frank J. Petrarca, Cleveland, O.; Pvt. Rodger W. Young, Clyde, O.; Lt Col. Addison E. Baker, Akron, O.

Marines—Maj. Gregory Boyington, Okanogan, Wash.; Maj. Joseph J. Foss, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, Charlottesville, Va.

Three N.C.O. Schools Join New League

By The Associated Press

BUCYRUS, O., April 18—Galion, Bucyrus and Shelby, present members of the North Central Ohio high school conference, last night joined Sandusky, Crestline, Norwalk and Willard to form a new athletic league.

Representatives of the seven schools, meeting here, elected L. H. Houpt of Sandusky as president; P. A. Weibe of Willard, vice president, and R. G. Winter of Shelby, secretary-treasurer.

It was announced that all members of the new circuit would play out their previous schedule commitments with other schools.

RITES IN KIRBY

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., April 18 — Funeral for Joseph Riedlinger, 80 will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. fast time, from St. Mary's church, in Kirby. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. Reidlinger died Sunday at his home in Kirby of a heart attack. He has been in ill health for the past two years.

GALION—A son was born Saturday at Galion City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Thorp of Highland avenue, Mt. Gilead.

1,184 SIGN AGAINST LABOR CONSCRIPTION

Marion Ministers Are Among Those Opposing Bill.

Marion ministers and ministers from Delaware, Kenton and Ada are among 1,184 clergymen and church lay members from every state in the nation who have gone on record as opposed to the Austin-Wadsworth labor conscription bill proposed for presentation to congress, a news release from the Free Labor committee of the Workers Defense league in New York City state today. Names of well-known religious leaders of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths are listed as signers of the statement to Congress in protest against the bill.

Expressed as a "deep concern lest . . . developments in America itself may impair one or more of these (four) freedoms," the statement condemns the proposed bill as a 'serious threat to the religious concept of human life,' labels it as embodying injustices, as a 'dangerous precedent' and as a "danger to the American soul," further stresses that "to draft civilians into service of private employers the supreme court has said is slavery," and points out "Allocation and efficient use of manpower without compulsion could be worked out by overall industrial planning, fuller use of the U. S. Employment service remedying bad housing, training for needed skills, decentralizing war contracts, making 'real use of labor-management committees, manpower could be increased by elimination of discrimination against various racial groups."

Those signing the statement from this area included Rev Eldred Johnston and Rev F. H Wierth of Marion, Rev. Ralph F Alton of Delaware, Dr. Nomen C. McMillan of Kenton and Rev Marion E. Tinsler of Ada

DETROIT MAN SPEAKS AT BAPTIST CONFERENCE

Second in Series of Three Talks Scheduled Tonight.

At the first service of the three-night Bible conference Monday night at Emmanuel Baptist church here, Dr. M. R. DeHaan of Detroit, Bible teacher, developed a theme on "Christian Fruitfulness." Quoting Bible passages to show that "among Christians believers there are 30, 60 and 100 percenters," he declared "The '30 percenters' accept salvation as a means to stay out of hell; the '60 percenters' go good until the test comes, while the '100 percenters' stand the fiery trial. He concluded with an "invitation to the '30 and 60 percenters' to give over that their Lord may be glorified by sacrificial service for Christ's sake."

Dale Summers led the music session with Lenne Beausey at the piano. Mr. Summers played a piano solo and each evening will present a special musical number. Dr. DeHaan will speak tonight on the "Rapture of the Church" and will conclude the campaign with a prophetic theme on "England and the Palestine Question." Church doors will be opened at 7 p. m. with the song service scheduled for 7:30 and message at 8.

Homecoming Held by Rayl Class On 36th Anniversary

Following an annual custom, members of the Rayl Sunday school class of Trinity Baptist church Sunday observed the anniversary of the founding of the class by the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rayl, in the church parlors. The occasion was a homecoming and marked the 36th year the class has been functioning as a part of Trinity church activities.

Approximately 100 members, their families and friends, and former class members met for a covered dish dinner and later there was a program. Mrs. F. H LeMasters, president of the class, presided and the program opened with a song by the audience, 'When Love Shines In,' with Mr. LeMasters directing and Mrs. Roy Reddick at the piano. Dr. Warren P. Behan, pastor, conducted devotions and Clayton Dix gave a history of the first 10 years of the class. A quartet composed of children of the class members, Mrs. Mary LeMasters Jennings, Mrs. Been Auld, George Wingett and Miss Bauer, with Mrs. George Barnhart at the piano, sang and Mrs. Jessie Shoots, a member of the class, gave two original poems. Mrs Gail Smith, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. F. Forry, gave a whistling solo and a group of readings was given by Mrs. Ralph Wright Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Donough entertained with a group of xylophone and accordion numbers. A mixed quartet composed of Mrs. F. H LeMasters, Mrs Roy Reitnes, Mr. LeMasters and G. B. Laymon accompanied at the piano by Mrs C. F. Forry, sang and Janet Lee Auld contributed a vocal solo.

Talks were given by E. O Umpapher, Mrs. Cora McKeever, G. B Laymon, L. F. Umpapher, Mrs. Harry Gill, Roy Pawelson, Mrs. L. F. Umpapher, Mr. and Mrs. C. F Forry, Mrs Hattie Richards, Miss Isadora Dix, Mrs. A. H. Mayes, Mrs Minnie Fout, Mrs Sara Howard, Mrs. Gail Smith, Mrs. G. B Laymon, Mrs. Roy Reddick and Mrs J. B. Holloway. The meeting closed with the group singing "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

FUNERAL HELD AT GALION FOR MISS MARY E. STAUB

Former Resident of Marion Dies At Upper Sandusky.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 18 — Funeral services were held at 9 a. m. this morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church for Miss Mary E. Staub, 80, who was known as Sadie Staub. Rev Francis X. Heimiller, pastor, officiated and burial was made in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Miss Staub died Sunday at the Riddle rest home in Upper Sandusky. She had been ill for about three years.

Born in Crawford county near Leesville, June 3, 1864, she was a daughter of Henry and Christina Smith Staub. She is survived by four nephews, Elmer and Charles Staub of Galion; Edward Staub of Cleveland, and Harry Staub of Marion. She was a member of St. Joseph's church and of the Altar society of the church.

Before going to the Upper Sandusky rest home about two years ago, Miss Staub lived for two years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eckert ad Miss Mary Werley at 693 Windsor street in Marion

State Liquor Agents Visit Crawford County

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 18 — Ross Conforti, proprietor of the Merchant's club on Hopley avenue posted $250 cash bond for his appearance to a charge of illegal possession liquor and Carl Marquart, Crestline, paid a $100 fine on the same charge, following a raid by state liquor law enforcement officials here Saturday.

Marquart, proprietor of the Crestline News stand, entered a plea of guilty before Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl, Conforti will be arraigned Friday.

LABOR TURNOVER HIKES ACCIDENTS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—Increases in employment and labor turnover were blamed today by Harry L. Sain, superintendent of the state division of safety and hygiene, for a sharp increase since Pearl Harbor in the number of occupational accidents in Ohio.

Sain reported 2,143 Ohioans lost their lives in occupational accidents during the last two years, 1,041 in 1942 and 1,104 last year. Occupational accidents also cost almost 20,000,000 lost work days.

Sain asserted however, the number of accidents was not out of proportion to the increase in employment and he predicted the upswing in accidents would continue with any further rise in employment.

There was a total of 328,121 occupational injury and disease claims filed with the commission last year as compared with 318,146 in 1941. Ohio industries lost 10,000,000 work days in 1943 and 9,300,000 in 1942.

Metal goods manufacturing led in the number of accidents in 1942 with 103,237 claims filed. Construction was second with 30,570.

Army shoes are made in 249 sizes from 1½AAA to 13½EEE.

GENERAL STOCK TREND LOWER

Only a Few Issues Able To Post Increases as Selling Develops.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 18—Sellers took the helm in today's stock market and, while scattered issues managed to put up a moderately successful contest, the general drift was downward.

Potential buyers again stood aside and others trimmed commitments in preparation for big European events which, it was felt, could be in the offing. On the other hand, a little bidding cropped up here and there.

Prices began to slip after a fairly steady opening and activity picked up on the retreat. Rails led the decline and, near the fourth hour, setbacks of fractions to 2 points or so were widespread.

FLOOR PRICE RULES AT STOCK AUCTION

Top Hogs $13.60, Accepted Only by Appointment.

The hog run was very light, due to accepting, only by appointment, weights from 200 to 270 pounds, when the Marion Union Stock Yards held its weekly auction Monday. Top hogs were $13.60, the floor price contemplated. Of 255 persons were handled. Receipts and quotations follow:

Hogs receipts 591 head; fat hogs 180-200 lbs., 12.50@13.00; 200-275 lbs., by appointment floor price 13.60; 275-300 lbs., 13.00@13.25; 160-180 lbs., 12.50@12.75; 140-160 lbs., 10.00@11.00; pigs by head 5.00@8.00; good roughs 11.50@12.00; good stags 9.75@10.75; good boars 6.75@8.00.

Calves receipts 171 head; good to choice 15.00@16.00; medium to good 12.00@15.00; common to medium 9.00@12.00; culls 8 down.

Sheep and lambs, receipts 732 head; good to choice wool lambs, none; medium to good wool lambs, none; ti clip lambs, No. 2 pelts 14.35, good sheep for slaughter, clips 7.10; medium sheep for slaughter, clips 5.50@6.50; common and culls 2.00@4.00; best breeding ewes by head 11.75.

LAUSCHE PROPOSES OHIO PLAN INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

Favors Department To Plan Expansion Program.

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., April 18 — Mayor Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, believes Ohio may have to set up a new governmental department to induce industrial expansion within the state.

Commenting on future expansion of industry, Lausche last night told a joint committee meeting of the Stark county Jackson club and Women's Democratic club, "it may be that if we are to keep pace, Ohio will have to set up a separate department, the principal function of which shall be to induce the expansion of industries that are already here, and to attract new industries to our boundaries."

Frazier Reams of Toledo and James W. Huffman of Columbus, two other candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, urged that President Roosevelt be returned to the White House for a fourth term.

Huffman advocated use of the state treasury surplus for veterans benefit and Reams attacked departments of the present state administration.

Lausche urged Ohio legislators to "cast aside all political consideration" in adopting legal provisions that will permit a maximum number of the state's service men and women to vote.

WHEAT AT LOWEST POINT IN A MONTH

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 18—Trade in some wheat contracts retreated to the lowest point in a month at one time today and then recovered some of the loss on local buying and short covering.

Rye, failing to find any independent strength, moved downward with wheat, with some contracts showing losses of more than a cent. There was some rye selling attributed to profit-taking. Oats and barley also were lower.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"YOU'LL ONLY have to wait about two minutes longer," I told Junior. "Drive the truck up to the kitchen door, and leave it ready for Jim to take away. Then, when you and Roderick have helped Faith and me down, you take him and go straight to my study. You may tell him what I have just told you, and I'll tell you the rest of it as soon as I can get away. It won't be but a few minutes."

"Okay!" he said briefly, then devoted his whole attention to the task of tooling the truck up to the kitchen door. As soon as it stopped Roderick jumped down from the back, and the two boys, with their never-failing courteous solicitude, saw that Faith and I were safely deposited at the kitchen door.

Trained In Courtesy

I had a suddenly nostalgic memory of my boy when he first could walk alone. Dicky had shown him how to pull back my chair, and his grandmother's, at the table, and from that moment on, the little boy, naturally imitative, had made Dicky's meticulous training of him in courtesy due to women, a mirthful joy instead of a task. When Roderick Harrison, Dicky's orphaned nephew, became, in effect, a son of the house instead of a nephew Dicky had a harder task. But he managed it, and we both are justifiably proud of our two manly, honorable and courteous boys.

They waited for us to get into the kitchen, then they dashed through it at headlong pace, sending a "Sorry, Katie" over their shoulders as they rushed past her. She put her hands, fishwife fashion, on her hips and sent an angry answer after them which they did not hear, for they were already in my studio.

"You not half so sorry as me!" she cried. "Tracking oop my nice kitchen floor!"

She flung her arms toward the heavens, a familiar gesture to me.

Tragic Plaint

"Oh, I could keel! I could keel!" she intoned tragically.

"How long until dinner, Katie?" I asked placidly, ignoring her outburst, the procedure I generally find most effective in dealing with her.

"Not so long now," she said, her truculence magically vanishing. "Maybe free-quarters hour maybe only half, shoost ven schickens done."

"That's all right," I told her. "I'm sure we'll all be ready. I'll just take Faith up to her grandmother, and then come back to the boys."

"You no need to take her so far!" Katie said. "Old vomans, she coom downstairs und go in library. I light fire in dere."

There was panic in her eyes at the last word, and as I heard the rustle of my mother-in-law's skirts behind me my mental barometer fell so fast that I was afraid I never would get it up again. Nothing so infuriates Dicky's august mother as this disrespectful reference to her on Katie's part. And she inevitably blames me for it, although it seems sometimes to me that if the minutes I have spent in trying to correct my temperamental helper on that point could be added together they would make months of time.

Addresses Katie

But to my surprise she addressed herself to Katie instead of to me.

"Katie," she said in casual tones, "kindly go into the laundry and stay there for a minute or two. Mrs. Graham will call you as soon as I have finished speaking to her."

Katie took a frightened look at her, then mumbling something about "I'm so sorry" fled from the kitchen. My mother-in-law looked after her with a grim smile on her face.

"I've probably frightened her out of a year's growth," she said. "She'll think I'm 'marked for death' or something. But I told you I'd turned over a new leaf for the duration. I'll probably backslide, but I'm going to try to take—and make—things as easy for you as I can, from now on."

Care For Faith

"If you'll take Faith, get her ready for dinner, and keep her with you until dinner time, that will help me best of all," I told her.

"Consider it done," she said with a smile. Then she took her granddaughter, already snuggled close to her, by the hand.

"Come with Granzie, Faith," she said.

Then her lips twitched as she led the little girl from the room.

"It will be safe to let Katie out now," she said.

I controlled my own risibles with difficulty as I went to the laundry door and opened it. Katie pale and obviously disturbed, looked around the kitchen fearfully before she spoke.

"You tink," she whispered, "dot old vomans goin' have stroke or sumtings? I nefer, nefer saw her like dot before. Me, I tink she gif me hell und she say nodings—nodings."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Sports and Heart

"Most high school have intensified their physical education work because of the war. Some have installed commando courses. How will the adolescent heart stand up under these demands?"

The question asked here really comes down to the old subject of athlete's heart. We used to hear about athletes who had exercised so much in youth that they had an abnormal enlargement of the heart and then later in life when they got soft this was too big for their body and the heart muscle fibers got replaced by fat, and this caused heart failure and a breakdown in health.

This conception of athlete's heart is mostly a myth. There is no evidence that a heart ever enlarges too much for the individual body's needs, nor that any unhappy consequences would follow if it did. There is no evidence that athletes who trained intensively when they were young break down with heart failure any more frequently in middle age than those who have not had such intensive training.

It is true that the breakdown which afflicts many men in middle age and early old age is due to hardening or changes in the arteries and that this condition centers on a form of heart failure, and that athletes are just as subject to arterial degeneration in middle age as the rest of the population, but no more. No one could say that intensive athletic exertion in youth predisposed to changes in the arteries, the preeminent heart disease of middle age.

To take such conspicuous examples as Walter Camp, football star and later athletic director, and Theodore Roosevelt, who led the strenuous life, both of whom died before the scriptural age limit and to ascribe their comparatively early deaths to the exertions of their youth is not an argument supported by the facts.

Dr. Allen S. Johnson, an authority on such subjects, writing in "Hygeia," the health magazine, says:

"There is no convincing evidence that a healthy heart is damaged by strenuous or even violent exercise. Fatigue causes one to quit before one can injure the heart itself. But 30 years ago prospective athletes were forced to undergo little, if any, physical examination to determine their fitness for strenuous competitive athletics. In this era the blood pressure apparatus was just an intriguing gadget; the X-rays were not used for measuring the size of the heart, and the electrocardiograph was unknown. Not was the importance of certain types of infection fully appreciated in relation to their predisposition to cardiac damage. In other words a certain number of aspiring athletes with already damaged or otherwise abnormal hearts were allowed to participate in sports which added insult to injury and set the stage for a cardiac breakdown later in life."

So I think we can dismiss the fears that the strenuous training high school pupils are now getting will cripple them or their hearts in after life.

As a matter of fact most high school boys do not have enough physical conditioning. Young men appear before the draft boards and pass the examination which determines whether they have any organ abnormality satisfactorily, but even though sound to this extent, they show pitiable inefficiency when strenuous physical conditioning is instituted.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, April 19

WHILE IT is likely to be a distinctly lively and enterprising day, all the excitement and commotion will not be entirely constructive. There is a menace of sudden danger or unforeseen development of a quite unpredictable nature, and unwise or ill-considered changes, or journeys and take care against accident or carelessness with the physical well-being and that of the household. There are also entanglements or separations in emotional or affectional affiliations. Handle delicate situations with finesse and compromise.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a particularly lively and exciting year with much transpiring of a surprising and unpredictable nature. It would be well to suppress the emotions or impulses restraining from all sudden and tempestuous moves, safeguard the physical safety and that of the family, also preserve tact and finesse in domestic, social and love affairs. With prudence and turning the energies into constructive channels, there might be surprising turns of luck and good fortune through aggressive activities.

A child born on this day may have much energy, constructive ability and skill with ingenuity and enterprise, although it may be subject to emotional or impulsive outbursts or a strange urge to recklessness.
